SECURITY COUNCIL
Forty-seventh year

Letter dated 27 January 1992 from the Permanent Representative of El Salvador to the United Nations addressed to the Secretary-General

I have the honour to transmit herewith the "Peace Agreement" signed at Mexico City on 16 January 1992 between the Government of El Salvador and the Frente Farabundo Martí para la Liberación Nacional (see annex), which contains the set of political agreements designed to put a definitive end to the Salvadorian armed conflict.

I should be grateful if you would have this note and its annex circulated as an official document of the General Assembly, under agenda item 31, and of the Security Council.

PEACE AGREEMENT

The Government of El Salvador and the Frente Farabundo Martí para la Liberación Nacional (hereinafter referred to as "the Parties"),

Reaffirming that their purpose, as set forth in the Geneva Agreement of 4 April 1990, is "to end the armed conflict by political means as speedily as possible, promote the democratization of the country, guarantee unrestricted respect for human rights and reunify Salvadorian society",

Bearing in mind the San José, Mexico and New York Agreements of 26 July 1990, 27 April 1991 and 25 September 1991 respectively, arrived at by them in the course of the negotiating process conducted with the active participation of the Secretary-General of the United Nations and of his Representative, which Agreements form a whole with the Agreement signed today,

Having concluded negotiations on all the substantive items of the Caracas Agenda of 21 May 1990 and of the New York Compressed Negotiations of 25 September 1991,

Have arrived at the set of political agreements that follow, whose implementation, together with that of the earlier Agreements mentioned above, will put a definitive end to the Salvadorian armed conflict:

CHAPTER I

ARMED FORCES

1. DOCTRINAL PRINCIPLES OF THE ARMED FORCES

The doctrine for the armed forces, on the basis of the constitutional reform agreed to in April 1991, as defined by law, shall conform to the principles set forth below, and henceforth their institutional regime and educational system shall be based exclusively on those principles and their operations shall be bound by strict observance of them:

- A. The mission of the armed forces is to defend the sovereignty of the State and the integrity of its territory, according to the terms of the regime defined for them by the Constitution and the laws. The performance of this mission is inseparable from democratic values and strict respect for all parts of the Constitution.
- B. As established in the Constitution, the armed forces are a permanent institution in the service of the nation. They shall be obedient, professional, apolitical and non-deliberative. Their institutional regime and operations shall also be consistent with the principles deriving from the rule of law, the primacy of the dignity of the human person and respect for human rights; respect for and defence of the sovereignty of the Salvadorian people; the concept of the armed forces as an institution free from all considerations of politics, ideology or social position or any other discrimination; and the subordination of the armed forces to the constitutional authorities.

- C. The armed forces owe respect to the political order determined by the sovereign will of the people and all political or social changes generated by that will, in accordance with democratic procedures consistent with the Constitution. Their institutional regime and operations shall be defined in terms ensuring a harmonious relationship at all times with civilian society and the normal activities of their members as part of that society.
- D. As a State institution, the armed forces play an instrumental, non-decision-making role in the political field. Consequently, only the President of the Republic and the basic organs of government may use the armed forces to implement the provisions they have adopted, within their respective constitutional areas of competence, to enforce the Constitution. Similarly, those authorities have exclusive competence to verify whether the political or social changes referred to in the preceding paragraph are consistent with the Constitution.
- E. The doctrine of the armed forces is based on a distinction between the concepts of security and defence. National defence, the responsibility of the armed forces, is intended to safeguard sovereignty and territorial integrity against outside military threat. Security, even when it includes this notion, is a broader concept based on unrestricted respect for the individual and social rights of the person. It includes, in addition to national defence, economic, political and social aspects which go beyond the constitutional sphere of competence of the armed forces and are the responsibility of other sectors of society and of the State.
- F. The maintenance of internal peace, tranquillity, order and public security lies outside the normal functions of the armed forces as an institution responsible for national defence. The armed forces play a role in this sphere only in very exceptional circumstances, where the normal means have been exhausted, on the terms established in the constitutional reform approved in April 1991.

2. EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM OF THE ARMED FORCES

Reiterating fully their previous agreements, whereby the professional training of members of the armed forces shall emphasize the pre-eminence of human dignity and democratic values, respect for human rights and the subordination of such forces to the constitutional authorities, the Parties have reached the following agreements:

- A. The legal framework of the armed forces educational and training system shall be defined on the basis of the provisions of articles 212 and 213 of the constitutional reform agreed to in April 1991.
- B. The doctrinal framework of the armed forces educational system shall be defined by the doctrinal principles set forth in this chapter. Those principles shall be the doctrinal foundation of all armed forces educational and training programmes at all levels.
- C. Curricula and study programmes for the training and education of the armed forces shall include, in addition to military and technical subjects, scientific and humanistic studies in order to provide an all-round education which gives students the necessary skills to participate actively in the institutional life of the country and promotes at all times an harmonious relationship with civilian society, as well as their normal activities as members of that society.
- D. In order to attain fully the goals outlined in the preceding paragraph, members of the armed forces shall be encouraged to take professional and postgraduate courses at the country's universities.
- E. The Military College shall be run on a collegiate basis in teaching matters. Its Director shall be the President of an Academic Council which shall include members of the military and civilians from the academic world. Members of the Academic Council shall be appointed by the President of the Republic.
- F. COPAZ shall decide on the number of members of the Academic Council, which shall comprise an equal number of civilians and military personnel.
- G. Civilian members of the Academic Council shall be appointed by the President of the Republic, on the basis of criteria of political pluralism, from lists of three candidates proposed by COPAZ.
- H. The teaching staff shall be appointed by the Academic Council, which shall ensure that no political tendency predominates among that staff.
- I. The Director of the Military College shall be appointed by the President of the Republic.

- J. The admissions system shall be determined by the Academic Council, which shall ensure that it is not discriminatory.
- K. COPAZ shall oversee, in particular, the implementation of paragraphs (G), (H) and (J), under the terms laid down in the New York Agreement of 25 September 1991.

3. PURIFICATION

The Parties agree to a process of purification of the armed forces, within the framework of the peace process and with a view to the supreme objective of national reconciliation, based on evaluation of all members of the armed forces by an ad hoc Commission.

- A. The evaluation shall take into account the past performance of each officer, including, in particular: (1) his record of observance of the legal order, with particular emphasis on respect for human rights, both in his personal conduct and in the rigour with which he has ordered the redress and punishment of unlawful acts, excesses or human rights violations committed under his command, especially if there have been serious or systematic omissions in the latter respect; (2) his professional competence; and (3) his capacity to function in the new situation of peace, within the context of a democratic society, and to promote the democratization of the country, guarantee unrestricted respect for human rights and reunify Salvadorian society, which is the common purpose agreed upon by the Parties in the Geneva Agreement. The existence of serious deficiencies in any one of the above-mentioned areas could be sufficient grounds for the ad hoc Commission to take the decisions required under paragraph (G) of this section.
- B. The evaluation shall be carried out by a rigorously impartial ad hoc Commission composed of three Salvadorians of recognized independence of judgement and unimpeachable democratic credentials. It shall also include two officers of the armed forces with impeccable professional records, who shall have access only to the deliberations of the Commission; they shall not have access to the investigation phase to be carried out by the ad hoc Commission, nor be involved in the final phase of the investigation, but they may have access to its conclusions.

The selection of the three civilian members of the ad hoc Commission is the result of a process of consultations carried out by the Secretary-General of the United Nations, the outcome of which has already been communicated to both Parties. The President of the Republic shall issue, within five days from the signing of this Agreement, his endorsement giving legal form and force to the Commission. If necessary, the same procedure shall be used to replace any member of the Commission who is permanently unable to serve. The two officers of the armed forces who are to participate in the ad hoc Commission on the conditions indicated above shall be appointed by the President of the Republic.

- C. The Commission on the Truth established by the Mexico Agreements of 26 April 1991 (hereinafter referred to as "the Commission on the Truth") may appoint an observer to the ad hoc Commission.
- D. The ad hoc Commission shall be provided with such civilian support staff as it considers necessary.
- E. The Ministry of Defence and Public Security, ^{1/} as well as any public entity, shall supply the ad hoc Commission with any information it requests, including information on the service record of each officer. In any case, the ad hoc Commission may avail itself of information from any source which it considers reliable.
- F. The ad hoc Commission shall adopt and, where necessary, request the adoption of any measure which, in its view, is necessary for its own safety and to ensure the safety and physical and moral integrity of persons who, in any form or manner, cooperate with it in the fulfilment of its mission.
- G. The ad hoc Commission shall adopt its conclusions, after hearing the parties concerned, on the basis of the provisions of paragraph (A) of this section. Its conclusions may include a change of duty station and, where necessary, the discharge of the staff evaluated.
- H. The ad hoc Commission shall endeavour to adopt its decisions unanimously, but if this is not possible a vote by the majority of its members shall suffice.
- I. The evaluation shall be extended to non-commissioned officers when, in the judgement of the ad hoc Commission, there is justification for doing so.
- J. The ad hoc Commission shall conclude its evaluation within a maximum period of three months from the date of its establishment. The corresponding administrative decisions shall be taken within 30 days from the date on which the conclusions are communicated to the Government by the ad hoc Commission and shall be implemented within 60 days from that date.
- K. The results of the evaluation shall not prevent the implementation of such recommendations as the Commission on the Truth may make at the appropriate time.

^{1/} The results of the constitutional reform will be taken into account.

4. REDUCTION

The new situation of peace shall include the reduction of the armed forces to a size appropriate to their doctrine and to the functions assigned to them by the Constitution within the framework of the constitutional reform resulting from the Mexico Agreements. Accordingly, pursuant to the New York Agreement, the Government has submitted to the Secretary-General of the United Nations a plan for the reduction of the armed forces, which the Secretary-General has made known to FMLN. The implementation of the plan must have the practical consequence of making reductions in the various branches of the armed forces.

A. Organization

The organization of the armed forces shall be adapted to their institutional mission in peacetime, in keeping with the functions assigned to them by the Constitution. This means:

- a. The type of units appropriate for performing the various tasks corresponding to that mission;
- b. The appropriate structure, organization and equipment for such units by branch, service, category (rank) and speciality; and
- c. Staffing requirements, by unit, mission and rank.

B. Units

- a. The reduction of units shall be based on the reorganization of the armed forces. The number and type of units shall be in keeping with the new organization.
- b. In any case, the reduction covers units established as a consequence of the conflict.

C. Personnel

The reorganization and the reduction of units involve cutting back personnel in the various categories, branches and services or specialities of the armed forces. The number of officers shall be reduced in accordance with the reduction plan and shall be commensurate with the normal needs of an army.

D. Matériel and equipment

Matériel and equipment shall be in keeping with the new organization, the doctrine and constitutional mission of the armed forces.

E. Facilities

Reduction involves the conversion, return or disposal of facilities no longer used by the armed forces.

F. Administrative and service structures

All administrative and service structures shall be adapted to the new situation of peace and to the doctrine and the new constitutional mission of the armed forces.

G. Military spending

5. END TO IMPUNITY

The Parties recognize the need to clarify and put an end to any indication of impunity on the part of officers of the armed forces particularly in cases where respect for human rights is jeopardized. To that end, the Parties refer this issue to the Commission on the Truth for consideration and resolution. All of this shall be without prejudice to the principle, which the Parties also recognize, that acts of this nature, regardless of the sector to which their perpetrators belong, must be the object of exemplary action by the law courts so that the punishment prescribed by law is meted out to those found responsible.

6. PUBLIC SECURITY FORCES

- A. Under the constitutional reform resulting from the Mexico Agreements, the safeguarding of peace, tranquillity, order and public security in both urban and rural areas shall be the responsibility of the National Civil Police, which shall be under the control of civilian authorities. The National Civil Police and the armed forces shall be independent and shall be placed under the authority of different ministries.
- B. According to the terms of chapter II of this Agreement, the National Civil Police shall be a new force, with a new organization, new officers, new education and training mechanisms and a new doctrine.
- C. The National Guard and the Treasury Police shall be abolished as public security forces and their members shall be incorporated into the army.

7. INTELLIGENCE SERVICES

- A. The National Intelligence Department shall be abolished and State intelligence services shall be entrusted to a new entity to be called the State Intelligence Agency, which shall be subordinated to civilian authority and come under the direct authority of the President of the Republic. During the transitional period, the Director of the State Intelligence Agency shall be a civilian appointed by the President of the Republic on the basis of his ability to attract broad acceptance. He may be dismissed by resolution of the Legislative Assembly on grounds of serious human rights violations.

- B. The legal regime, staff training, organizational lines, operational guidelines and, in general, the doctrine of the State Intelligence Agency shall accord with democratic principles; the concept of State intelligence as a State function for the common good, free from all considerations of politics, ideology or social position or any other discrimination; and strict respect for human rights.
- C. The activities of the State Intelligence Agency shall be restricted to those required for compiling and analysing information in the general interest, by the means and within the limits authorized by the legal order and, in particular, on the basis of strict respect for human rights.
- D. The activities of the State Intelligence Agency shall be supervised by the Legislative Assembly, using the oversight mechanisms established by the Constitution.
- E. Alternative employment and compensation shall be offered to staff currently attached to the National Intelligence Department who are not incorporated into the new State Intelligence Agency. International support shall be sought for that purpose.
- F. The incorporation into the State Intelligence Agency of staff of the National Intelligence Department who so request shall be permitted only after rigorous evaluation of their past performance, abilities and capacity to adapt to the new doctrine. Such evaluation shall be made by the Director of the Agency, under the authority of the President of the Republic, with the support of international advisory services and United Nations verification.
- G. The State Intelligence Agency shall be organized by its Director, under the authority of the President of the Republic.

8. RAPID DEPLOYMENT INFANTRY BATTALIONS

The Parties recognize that the rapid deployment infantry battalions were created at a specific moment in the conflict and that their existence must therefore be reviewed as circumstances dictate. Consequently, they also recognize that the rapid deployment infantry battalions will not be needed in the new situation of peace, with the result that in these circumstances it will be possible to disband them and to redeploy or discharge personnel currently assigned to them.

9. SUBORDINATION TO CIVILIAN AUTHORITY

The President of the Republic, in exercise of the power of discretion conferred on him by the Constitution, may appoint civilians to head the Ministry of Defence. In any case, appointees must be persons fully committed to observing the peace agreements.

10. PARAMILITARY BODIES

- A. The Parties recognize the principle that any paramilitary force or group must be proscribed in a State governed by the rule of law.
- B. Civil defence. Civil defence units shall be disbanded. This process shall be gradual and shall be subject to the implementation timetable for the peace agreements.
- C. System of armed forces reserves. A new system of armed forces reserves shall replace the present system of territorial service, according to the following terms:
- a. The system shall be responsible for the organization and functioning of the following aspects: (1) up-to-date registration of citizens in reserve status and citizens fit for military service; (2) updating of the military skills of reserves; (3) when necessary, calling reserves up for active duty to perform the mission entrusted to the armed forces by the Constitution.
- b. The new system shall be under the authority of the Ministry of Defence.
- c. Armed forces reserves may undertake missions only if assigned to active duty in the armed forces and in conformity with the Constitution, and shall not perform any function related to public security or monitoring of the population or the territory.
- d. The laws, regulations and orders in force on this subject shall be made compatible with the terms of this Agreement.
- D. Regulation of private security services. The Parties recognize the need to regulate the activities of all those entities, groups or persons who provide security or protection to private individuals, corporations or State institutions, in order to guarantee the transparency of their activities and also their strict subordination to the law and to respect for human rights. To that end:
- a. A special law shall regulate the activities of entities, groups or persons who provide security or protection to private individuals, corporations or State institutions. That law shall establish the requirements which must be met in order to offer and provide such services; a system for the public registration of the staff, weapons and offices, if any, of such groups, entities or persons; appropriate oversight mechanisms, including their supervision by the National Civil Police; and, in general, the necessary limitations and prohibitions to ensure that such security services operate exclusively within the framework of the law.

- b. The law shall also establish peremptory deadlines for fulfilling the above requirements, where relevant. Once those deadlines have expired, entities which have not fulfilled the above requirements shall be considered illegal and their members and organizers shall be subject to application of the corresponding legal penalties.
- c. To that end, the Parties express their agreement with the outline of the preliminary legislative draft included as an annex to this Agreement, which they refer to COPAZ, together with the above considerations, for it to prepare the corresponding preliminary draft.

11. SUSPENSION OF FORCIBLE RECRUITMENT

- A. Any form of forcible recruitment shall be suspended when the cessation of the armed conflict comes into effect, pending the entry into force of the law referred to in the next paragraph.
- B. A new law governing military service and reserve service shall be promulgated. That law shall establish as fundamental principles of military service that it shall be universal and compulsory and shall be imposed fairly and without discrimination.
- C. Pursuant to the above, the law shall establish that all Salvadorians must present themselves at the proper time at the corresponding registration centres. Recruitment shall be effected exclusively by calling up individuals through the drawing of lots, and by registering volunteers. Military service may be performed over one continuous period or over several periods of time.
- D. The above law shall envisage administrative penalties for failure to fulfil the obligations provided for therein and shall determine the grounds for temporary or permanent exemption from military service, equivalences between types of military service and other general provisions.
- E. The law shall also regulate the armed forces reserves in accordance with paragraph (C) of section 10 of this chapter.

12. PREVENTIVE AND PROMOTIONAL MEASURES

Within the context of the objectives of this Agreement, the Parties recognise the need to adopt a number of measures designed to promote enhanced respect for the rules which must govern the armed forces and to prevent infringements of those rules. These measures include the following:

- A. Supervision of armed forces operations by the Legislative Assembly.
- B. Effective functioning of the Armed Forces General Inspectorate. The Inspector General shall be a member of the armed forces with an impeccable professional record, appointed by the President of the Republic.
- C. Creation of an armed forces court of honour to try acts which, although not necessarily punishable, are contrary to military honour. This shall be without prejudice to the requirement that soldiers who have broken the law must be brought before the courts.
- D. Amendment of the law penalizing unlawful enrichment to expressly include within its jurisdiction senior commanders of military units and those performing administrative functions at the same levels.
- E. Cancellation of licences for private individuals to bear weapons that are for the exclusive use of the armed forces, and immediate recall of such weapons.
- F. Dissemination of the doctrine of the armed forces so that the whole of society is familiar with it.
- G. Adaptation of the legislation on the armed forces to the constitutional reform approved in April 1991, to the New York Agreement and to this Agreement.

13. REDEPLOYMENT AND DISCHARGE

- A. Troops belonging to units that are to be abolished or disbanded shall be redeployed within the armed forces where such redeployment is compatible with the armed forces troop strength required by the objectives of this Agreement, and with the conclusions and recommendations of the ad hoc Commission provided for in section 3 of this chapter.
- B. All troops discharged as a result of these agreements shall be given compensation equivalent to one year's pay at their wage level and the Government shall promote projects permitting the integration of such individuals into civilian life.

CHAPTER II

NATIONAL CIVIL POLICE

1. ESTABLISHMENT OF THE NATIONAL CIVIL POLICE

The National Civil Police shall be established in accordance with the constitutional reform resulting from the Mexico Agreements. The National Civil Police shall be a new force with a new organization, new officers, new education and training mechanisms and a new doctrine.

- A. The National Civil Police shall be the only armed police body with national jurisdiction. Its mission shall be to protect and safeguard the free exercise of the rights and freedoms of individuals, to prevent and combat all types of crimes, and to maintain internal peace, tranquillity, order and public security in both urban and rural areas.
- B. In accordance with the provisions of the New York Agreement, the organization of the National Civil Police and the general outlines of its staff profile shall be determined, on the terms set forth in this Agreement, under close international cooperation and supervision, coordinated by the United Nations. 2/

2. DOCTRINE

- A. The legal regime, staff training, organizational lines, operational guidelines and, in general, the institutional definition and operation of the National Civil Police shall accord with democratic principles; the concept of public security as a service provided by the State to its citizens, free from all considerations of politics, ideology or social position or any other discrimination; respect for human rights; the effort to prevent crime; and the subordination of the force to the constitutional authorities. Citizens' exercise of their political rights may not be impaired by police activities.
- B. The National Civil Police shall be a professional body, independent of the armed forces and free from all partisan activity. Without prejudice to the right of its members to make, as citizens, their own political choices, they shall not be able to use their status for partisan purposes.

2/ The international cooperation referred to in these Agreements shall be coordinated by the United Nations and shall be subject to a formal request by the Government, compliance with the official procedures and the corresponding consultations.

- C. Members of the National Civil Police shall at all times observe the duties imposed on them by law, serving the community and protecting all persons from illegal acts, in keeping with the high degree of responsibility required by their profession.
- D. In the performance of their tasks, members of the National Civil Police shall respect and protect human dignity and shall preserve and defend the human rights of all persons.
- E. Members of the National Civil Police may use force only when strictly necessary and to the extent required for the fulfilment of their tasks.
- F. Questions of a confidential nature of which members of the National Civil Police have knowledge shall be kept secret, unless compliance with duty or the needs of justice strictly demand otherwise.
- G. No member of the National Civil Police may inflict, instigate or tolerate any act of torture or other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment, nor invoke the orders of a superior or special circumstances, such as a state of war or threat of war, threats to national security, internal political instability or any other public emergency to justify torture or other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment.
- H. All orders from above shall be in keeping with the laws of the Republic. Obeying the orders of a superior is no justification for committing acts which are clearly punishable.
- I. Members of the National Civil Police shall ensure full protection of the health of persons in their custody and, in particular, shall take immediate steps to provide medical care when necessary.
- J. Members of the National Civil Police shall not commit any act of corruption. They shall also strongly oppose such acts and shall combat them.
- K. Members of the National Civil Police who have reason to believe that a breach of these rules of conduct has occurred or is about to occur shall so inform their superiors and, if necessary, any authority or appropriate agency having powers of control or correction.
- L. In the performance of their functions, members of the National Civil Police shall, as far as possible, utilize non-violent means before resorting to the use of force and firearms. They may use force and firearms only when other means prove ineffective or do not in any way guarantee the achievement of the legitimate anticipated result.

- M. Members of the National Civil Police shall not use firearms against people except in self-defence or in defence of other people, or in case of imminent danger of death or serious injury, or with the intention of preventing the commission of a particularly serious crime involving a serious threat to life, or for the purpose of arresting a person who represents such a threat and resists their authority, and only where less extreme means prove insufficient to achieve such objectives. In any case, lethal weapons may be used intentionally only when strictly unavoidable for the protection of a life.
- N. As part of the performance of their duty to safeguard the exercise of the rights of individuals, members of the National Civil Police shall protect the exercise of the right of assembly and demonstration. When, for legal reasons, they are compelled to break up a demonstration or a meeting, they shall use the least dangerous means and only to the minimum extent necessary. Members of the National Civil Police shall refrain from using firearms in such cases, save where the meetings are violent and other means have been exhausted, and only under the circumstances provided for in the preceding paragraph.

3. FUNCTIONAL AND TERRITORIAL STRUCTURE

The functional and territorial structure to be adopted by the National Civil Police is defined in the following general framework. This structure shall be reflected in the organizational chart and in the law on the organization of the National Civil Police.

A. General legal framework

a. National Civil Police authorities

- (1) The National Civil Police shall be under the control of civilian authorities (art. 168, para. 17, of the Constitution). These shall be: the President of the Republic, the Minister, the Vice-Minister, the Director-General of Police, the Deputy Directors-General, the Inspector General, the division chiefs of each service and the chiefs of departmental delegations.
- (2) The Director-General of the National Civil Police shall be appointed by the President of the Republic. He may be dismissed by resolution of the Legislative Assembly for serious violations of human rights. The leadership of the National Civil Police shall be civilian.
- (3) Without prejudice to the provisions of this chapter concerning the transitional regime, the National Civil Police shall be placed under the authority of a new

Ministry of the Interior and Public Security. To that end, the existing Ministry of the Interior shall be restructured. A Vice-Ministry of Public Security shall be established and shall be responsible for relations with the National Civil Police. The public security structure shall be entirely new.

b. Nature of the organization

The National Civil Police shall have a centralized organization, in that it will be structured at the national level in such a way as to cover all tasks assigned to the police. Its operation, on the other hand, shall be decentralized, because there shall be departmental police delegations in accordance with the administrative divisions of the country.

Owing to the nature of the functions assigned to certain units which belong organizationally to the National Civil Police, these units may remain under the functional control of other authorities, under the terms set forth in this chapter.

B. Organs reporting to the Director-General

a. Offices of Deputy Directors-General

b. The General Inspectorate

Under the authority of the Director-General, the General Inspectorate of Police shall be responsible for monitoring and supervising the activities of the operational services of the force.

The Inspector General shall be appointed by the Director-General, in consultation with the Attorney-General of the Republic and the National Counsel for the Defence of Human Rights.

The General Inspectorate shall comprise a Monitoring Division, which shall have the function of monitoring all police services, and a Disciplinary Investigation Division, which shall have the function of investigating breaches of discipline by police officers.

c. Legal advisory services

These services shall be staffed by legal experts specialized in police matters. They shall be organized in accordance with the needs of the various functional and territorial police structures.

d. International legal advisory services

International legal advisory services shall be staffed by suitable personnel and high-level specialists. They shall be coordinated by the United Nations and are envisaged as a transitional arrangement.

C. Office of the Deputy Director-General for Operations

a. Divisions

(1) Public Security Division

The Public Security Division shall be responsible for the maintenance of tranquillity, order and public security. It shall have the following departments: prevention, traffic, public order, control of private security, juveniles ^{3/} and general coordination with departmental delegations.

(2) Criminal Investigation Division

Under the functional control of the Attorney-General of the Republic, the Criminal Investigation Division shall be responsible for investigating criminal acts and gathering evidence to identify the perpetrators of such acts. It shall also carry out investigations and other activities within its field of competence as required by the Attorney-General of the Republic, judges and courts.

The Chief of the Division shall be appointed by the Director-General of the National Police, in consultation with the Attorney-General and the President of the Supreme Court of Justice.

The spheres of operation of this Division shall be organized on the basis of punishable offences having the greatest social impact. It shall also have technical support departments.

The legal regime applicable to this Division shall be harmonized with the provisions of the Constitution concerning auxiliary organs of the system of justice.

^{3/} This department shall provide support for the Juvenile Office of the Ministry of Justice.

(3) Frontiers Division

This Division shall be responsible for monitoring and supervising the admission, departure, activities and expulsion of aliens and the migration of nationals and for the monitoring and supervision of public and private civilian airports, without prejudice to the constitutional duty of the armed forces to defend the integrity of the territory of the State.

(4) Finance Division

Under the functional control of the Ministry of Finance and without prejudice to the fiscal oversight or other functions performed by it, this Division shall be responsible for preventing and combating infringements of tax law. It shall be the police support organ of the Ministry of Finance. It shall have two departments: customs and taxes.

The Finance Division shall be the only police organ with competence in the areas of customs and taxes. Consequently, following its entry into operation, all provisions and structures incompatible with this principle shall cease to exist.

The Chief of the Finance Division shall be appointed by the Director-General of the National Police with the prior approval of the Minister of Finance.

(5) Arms and Explosives Division

This Division shall be responsible for preventing and combating infringements of the constitutional and legal regime on the manufacture, import, export, trading, possession and bearing of weapons, ammunition, explosives and similar articles.

(6) Division for the Protection of Eminent Persons

This Division shall be responsible for protecting and escorting senior State officials; foreign dignitaries visiting the country; and other persons on the basis of decisions of the Government or of the courts; and for guarding public buildings and the offices of diplomatic missions or international organizations.

(7) Environment Division

Under the functional control of the Ministry of Agriculture and Livestock, this Division shall be responsible for preventing and combating crimes and misdemeanours against the environment.

The Chief of the Environment Division shall be appointed by the Director-General of the National Civil Police with the prior approval of the Minister of Agriculture and Livestock.

b. Territorial distribution

One police delegation per department and one metropolitan delegation for San Salvador shall be established. The headquarters of delegations shall be located in departmental capitals. Within each delegation, there may also be sub-delegations located in the main urban centres and also police posts in rural areas.

(1) Departmental delegations

The chiefs of departmental delegations shall have authority over all the units in their department. They shall be appointed by the Director-General of the National Police on the proposal of the Deputy Director-General for Operations, who shall be their direct supervisor. The organizational structure of delegations shall be adapted to the needs of each department.

(2) Sub-delegations and police posts

Sub-delegations shall be established in urban centres and shall be organized on the basis of local needs. Police posts shall operate in rural areas.

D. Office of the Deputy Director-General for Management

The Office of the Deputy Director-General for Management shall be responsible for implementing and coordinating the administrative and logistical support activities of the police. Its initial structure shall consist of the following divisions:

- Infrastructure Division
- Data-Processing Division
- Administration Division

- Logistics Division
- Planning and Budget Division

4. PERSONNEL OF THE NATIONAL CIVIL POLICE

The personnel of the National Civil Police shall be organized on the basis of a hierarchized manning table with three levels: basic, executive and senior. Each level shall consist of the ranks determined by law. The staff profile and general regime shall be in keeping with the terms of this Agreement.

A. Profile

- a. Personnel of the National Civil Police must have a vocation of service to the community, a capacity for human relations and emotional maturity, and the conduct and physical condition required to serve as a police officer. They must also be suited to serving in a police force which is designed, structured and operated as a civilian institution with the purpose of protecting and guaranteeing the free exercise of the rights and freedoms of individuals; preventing and combating all types of crimes; and maintaining internal peace, tranquillity, order and public security. They must also be able to adjust their conduct satisfactorily to the doctrine and legal regime of the National Civil Police.

Both admission to the National Public Security Academy and final admission to the police force shall require checking the profile of candidates. Specific evaluation criteria shall be established for this purpose, with rigorous standards set for each level of responsibility.

b. Educational level

- (1) Basic level.
- (a) Police officers must have completed the ninth grade of education.
 - (b) Police sergeants must hold a high school diploma.
- (2) Executive level. The successful completion of three years of university studies or their equivalent is required.
- (3) Senior level. A university degree or its equivalent is required.

c. General requirements for admission to the Academy

In order to enter the National Public Security Academy, applicants are required to:

- (1) Be Salvadorian by birth.
 - (2) Have reached the age of 18 before submitting the application.
 - (3) Have completed the level of studies required for the category concerned.
 - (4) Be physically fit.
 - (5) Have full exercise of their civic rights.
 - (6) Have no criminal record, i.e. convictions resulting from a final verdict.
 - (7) Pass the entrance examinations, which shall be designed to ensure that candidates fit the profile required to belong to the National Civil Police, according to each of the levels of responsibility defined in this chapter. The entrance examinations shall consist of a test of general knowledge, a physical examination, a medical examination and a psychological examination. These examinations shall be supplemented by personal interviews with the candidates.
- d. The preparation of the examinations referred to in the preceding paragraph and the formation of the boards of examiners responsible for administering them shall be carried out on the basis of exclusively technical criteria.
- e. Special emphasis shall be placed on the training of police personnel, so that they are given the best possible preparation and are trained to perform their duties in strict conformity with the doctrine of the police force, with special emphasis on unrestricted respect for human rights.

B. General regime

- a. Members of the National Civil Police shall be career professionals and agents of authority.
- b. The duties, rights, responsibilities and disciplinary regime of the members of the National Civil Police shall be determined by law.

- c. Members of the National Civil Police shall be required to serve in any part of the national territory.
- d. Members of the National Civil Police shall wear the regulation uniform whenever they are on active duty. In exceptional cases, the Minister, or in his absence, the Vice-Minister or the Director-General may give authorization for not wearing uniforms for certain tasks.
- e. Members of the National Civil Police shall bear firearms when warranted by the needs of the service. They shall use only small arms, which are appropriate to police duties and cannot be considered war matériel. Special weapons shall be stored in the arsenal of the National Civil Police, to be used by personnel trained for this purpose when, in the opinion of the Minister concerned or, in his absence, of the Vice-Minister or the Director-General, special circumstances exist which require their use.
- f. Members of the National Civil Police shall respect the Constitution and the law and shall at all times adjust their conduct to the doctrine of the force, as defined in this Agreement.
- g. Members of the National Civil Police shall not normally be required to live in barracks. Such a regime shall be applied only in exceptional circumstances and for the time strictly necessary.
- h. The law shall define the regime of labour rights of members of the National Civil Police, bearing in mind the nature of the function they are required to perform.
- i. Members of the National Civil Police shall enjoy job security. They may not be dismissed except for specific legal reasons.
- j. Members of the National Civil Police shall be entitled to a level of remuneration that ensures a decent standard of living for themselves and their families and also accords with their rank and length of service.
- k. Vehicles, communications systems, uniforms, facilities and, in general, any equipment used by members of the National Civil Police shall be suited to the requirements of a police force of the type defined in this Agreement.

5. NATIONAL PUBLIC SECURITY ACADEMY

- A. The National Public Security Academy shall be responsible for:

- a. Basic training, training of middle-ranking and senior officers and specialized training of the National Civil Police.
 - b. Selecting personnel for the National Civil Police.
 - c. Investigating, studying and publicizing matters relating to the National Civil Police and public security.
 - d. Making an annual evaluation of all National Civil Police personnel.
- B. The National Public Security Academy shall be an autonomous body placed directly under the authority of the Minister concerned.
 - C. The National Public Security Academy shall be run by a Director-General and an Academic Council. The Academic Council shall perform standard-setting and controlling functions in its sphere of competence. The Director-General shall be President of the Academic Council and shall exercise the executive and administrative powers of the Academy.
 - D. The Director-General shall be appointed by the President of the Republic.
 - E. The Academic Council shall consist of civilians prominent in civilian, cultural, legal, technical, police or academic life, appointed by the President of the Republic on the proposal of the Minister concerned and on the basis of criteria of political pluralism.
 - F. The admissions system shall be determined by the Academic Council, which shall ensure that it is not discriminatory.
 - G. The teaching staff of the Academy shall be appointed by the Academic Council. No political tendency shall predominate among that staff. The law shall establish suitable mechanisms for ensuring this last goal.
6. LEGAL REGIME

The National Civil Police and the National Public Security Academy shall each be regulated by special laws. To that end, the Parties express their general agreement with the proposed preliminary legislative drafts included as annexes to this Agreement (annexes II and III), provided that the proposed drafts do not depart from the Agreement. Consequently, in implementation of the New York Agreement, they hereby refer those proposals to COPAZ, along with this Agreement, for it to prepare the corresponding preliminary drafts.

7. TRANSITIONAL REGIME

A. Organization

- a. During the transition, the National Civil Police shall not be attached to any Ministry. The Director-General shall be under the direct authority of the President of the Republic.
- b. The National Civil Police shall be run by the Director-General, under the terms laid down in this Agreement and in the New York Agreement. Until the establishment of the National Civil Police has been legally formalized, the organizational work shall be done by a Coordinator chosen for his ability to receive wide acceptance.
- c. During the transition, the Director-General of the National Civil Police shall be appointed by the President of the Republic from a list of three candidates proposed by the National Commission for the Consolidation of Peace (COPAZ).
- d. The Coordinator and, subsequently, the Director-General, shall establish appropriate machinery for information and communication with COPAZ or, before the latter's final formalization, with its transitional body, so that the Commission can perform its function of supervising the organization of the National Civil Police. As part of the normal exercise of its functions, COPAZ shall designate a subcommission to carry out this task, which shall serve as an advisory commission to the Coordinator or to the Director-General for the adoption of relevant decisions or measures concerning the organization of the National Civil Police, the assumption of its functions and, in general, matters relating to the transitional regime which have not been expressly resolved in this chapter.
- e. In accordance with the provisions of the New York Agreement, the organization of the National Civil Police shall be determined, on the terms set forth in this Agreement, under close international cooperation and supervision, coordinated by the United Nations.

B. Assumption of functions

- a. The National Civil Police shall take up its functions gradually, as contingents graduating from the National Public Security Academy make it possible to staff fully each of the functional and territorial structures provided for in this chapter. The Director-General shall determine the priorities and order according to which this assumption of functions shall take place.

- b. The process of replacing the former security forces shall be carried out by geographical department, making sure that there are no gaps in authority. Within 21 months of the launching of this process, all departments must be covered by contingents of the National Civil Police.
- c. During the first two years of the formation of the new force, the goal of 5,700 officers at the basic level and 240 at the executive and senior levels must be achieved. Over the following five years, the final figures for the National Civil Police, estimated tentatively at some 10,000 officers at the basic level and about 500 at the executive and senior levels, shall be attained.
- d. While the first senior and executive officers of the National Police Force are being trained, the Director-General may order the creation of provisional commands, exclusively for the National Civil Police, which shall act during a predetermined period and shall be supported by experts and advisers, under a programme of close international cooperation and supervision, coordinated by the United Nations, on the terms laid down in this Agreement.
- e. While the progressive deployment of the new force is taking place under the terms laid down in this Agreement, the existing National Police shall continue to perform its current public security functions, with the exception laid down in the next paragraph. The National Police shall be the only one of the current public security forces to retain functions of this nature during the transitional period. The international verification of agreements to be undertaken by the United Nations through ONUSAL shall include the activities of a group of specialists from countries with experience in the organization and operation of civilian police forces. The tasks of those specialists shall include, in addition to cooperating in ensuring a smooth transition and assisting police authorities, that of accompanying officers and members of the National Police in the performance of their duties.
- f. During the progressive deployment of the new force to zones which were traditionally conflict zones during the armed conflict, public security in those zones shall be subject to a special regime to be determined by the Director-General of the National Civil Police. That regime shall, in any case, envisage activities by the group of specialists referred to in the preceding paragraph.
- g. Personnel of the National Civil Police graduating from the National Public Security Academy shall be subject to the general rule laid down in this chapter that police shall not be required to live in barracks. During the initial period, however, exceptions may be made where this is justified by lack of personnel in the early phases of the deployment of the new force. This exceptional regime may not be extended under any circumstances beyond 31 December 1993.

- h. In any case, during the preparatory phase and, in general, during the transitional period until the National Police is completely replaced by the National Civil Police, the role of international advisory services and verification shall be strengthened.

C. National Public Security Academy

- a. During the transition, the National Public Security Academy shall not be attached to any Ministry. Its Director shall be under the direct authority of the President of the Republic.
- b. During the transition, the Director-General of the National Public Security Academy shall be appointed by the President of the Republic from a list of three candidates proposed by COPAZ.
- c. COPAZ shall determine how many members the Academic Council of the National Public Security Academy should have during the transition. In this same period, those members shall be appointed by the President of the Republic from lists of three candidates proposed by COPAZ. In any case, the Council shall consist of civilians prominent in civilian, cultural, legal, police or academic life, in accordance with this chapter. The lists proposed by COPAZ and the final appointments made by the President of the Republic must ensure pluralism of the Academic Council.
- d. The admissions system shall be determined by the Academic Council, which shall ensure that it is not discriminatory.
- e. Admission shall be contingent on passing the entrance examinations provided for in section 4 of this chapter, adapted to the criteria and procedures referred to in the New York Agreement. The examinations shall be prepared on the basis of exclusively technical criteria and the formation of the boards of examiners responsible for administering them must be such as to ensure the juries' absolute impartiality. To that end, where it is necessary to obtain additional technical resources because there are not enough suitable resources in the country, the support of experts shall be sought through the United Nations under the terms laid down in this Agreement, as indicated in the next paragraph of this section. COPAZ shall pay special attention to monitoring the fulfilment of this provision.

- f. In selecting the initial academic personnel, every effort shall be made to find the best human resources available in Salvadorian society so as to provide a group of teachers which is sufficiently broad and pluralistic and of sufficiently high quality to give the new police force a cultural identity in keeping with its nature and doctrine. To that end, assistance shall be sought from university lecturers, expert jurists, doctors and other professionals involved in police matters. COPAZ shall establish appropriate mechanisms to ensure that no political tendency predominates in that academic body. Such mechanisms must be included in the preliminary bill on the National Public Security Academy.
- g. In those areas of study where there are not sufficient teachers in the country to meet the initial needs of the Academy, the support of experts shall be sought through the United Nations under the terms laid down in this Agreement, as indicated in the following paragraph.
- h. For the purposes of the recruitment, selection, preparation and training of new personnel, the support of experts from countries which are able to provide the assistance required for the needs of this process shall be sought through the United Nations, under the terms laid down in this Agreement.

D. Personnel

- a. The criteria and mechanisms for the selection and training of personnel shall accord with the concept of the National Civil Police as a new force, with a new organization, new officers, new education and training mechanisms and a new doctrine. In this context, personnel who did not participate directly in the armed conflict shall be encouraged to join the force, without prejudice to the right of former members of the National Police and former FMLN combatants not to be discriminated against in the selection of such personnel and their right to join the National Civil Police under the terms of the New York Agreement and of this Agreement.
- b. A publicity campaign to promote the recruitment of new personnel for the National Civil Police shall be designed and implemented as soon as possible. Special consideration shall be given to the recruitment of women.
- c. Former members of the National Police may join the National Civil Police under the terms of this Agreement, after an evaluation of their conduct, provided that they meet the admission requirements and go through the new National Public Security Academy. This evaluation shall be made by the Director-General of the National Civil Police, under the supervision of COPAZ, and shall be subject to verification by the United Nations.

- d. Former FMLN combatants may join the National Civil Police provided that they fulfil the admission criteria and procedures established for them by COPAZ and go through the new National Public Security Academy. As part of the verification of the cessation of the armed conflict, ONUSAL shall check that applicants who identify themselves in this category have actually and irrevocably abandoned the armed struggle. All this shall be supervised and guaranteed by COPAZ.
- e. For the recruitment of personnel referred to in the preceding paragraphs, in the case of the basic level of the National Civil Police, the level of general knowledge and/or the zones in which personnel are to be recruited and serve shall be taken into account. Those who do not have the level of formal education required for admission must pass an aptitude and skills test to evaluate their ability to follow the study programmes of the National Public Security Academy satisfactorily. Special courses shall be organized to prepare for this test, under the auspices of the National Public Security Academy and with support from the Ministry of Education and the country's universities.
- f. For courses at the basic level, 330 recruits shall be selected per month, for a 6-month training course, during the first 24 months of the mass training programme. Candidates shall be selected in such a way as to ensure that most recruits did not participate directly in the armed conflict and that the proportion of former FMLN combatants is no greater than that of former members of the National Police, and vice-versa. COPAZ shall take special care to ensure that these requirements are met.
- g. The recruitment of officers for the executive and senior levels of the National Civil Police shall be carried out by means of rigorous selection, in accordance with the criteria and procedures laid down in this Agreement, and shall fully respect the principles of equality of opportunity among applicants and non-discrimination. Courses shall last a year, according to the level and manning table concerned. A total of 120 officers shall be trained each year.
- h. Posts at the executive and senior levels shall be allocated to graduates of the National Public Security Academy by the Director-General according to the needs of the service. However, the top five students each year shall be entitled to choose from the various vacant posts corresponding to the level of responsibility of their studies.

- i. Without prejudice to the provisions of the preceding paragraph, zones that were traditionally conflict zones during the armed conflict shall be the object of special treatment designed to promote national reconciliation and stability during the transition. Such treatment shall involve the formation of police units comprising personnel of different origins who have graduated from the National Public Security Academy. The chiefs of the corresponding delegations shall be appointed following consultations with the advisory commission of COPAZ.
 - j. All personnel joining the National Civil Police in accordance with this Agreement shall be considered to be civilians, regardless of their origin.
- E. Any other matter relating to the transitional regime which has not been resolved by this Agreement or by other agreements already adopted by the Parties shall be decided by COPAZ, under the terms laid down in the New York Agreement.

CHAPTER III

JUDICIAL SYSTEM

1. NATIONAL COUNCIL OF THE JUDICIARY

- A. The Parties reaffirm that, as already agreed in the Mexico Agreements, the composition of the National Council of the Judiciary shall be such as to guarantee its independence from the organs of the State and from political parties and its membership shall, as far as possible, include not only judges but also sectors of society not directly connected with the administration of justice. In accordance with the New York Agreement, they refer the matter to COPAZ to prepare the corresponding preliminary legislative draft.
- B. Judicial Training School
 - a. Pursuant to the Mexico Agreements, the preliminary draft referred to in the preceding paragraph shall include provisions regulating the Judicial Training School, which shall function under the responsibility of the National Council of the Judiciary and whose purpose shall be to ensure a steady improvement in the professional training of judges and other judicial officials and of members of the Office of the Attorney-General of the Republic; to investigate the country's judicial problems and promote solutions thereto; and to foster greater bonds of solidarity among members of the judiciary and a coherent overall vision of the function of the judiciary in a democratic State.

- b. The rules for the administration and organization of the Judicial Training School shall be such as to ensure its academic independence and its openness to the various schools of legal thought.

2. OFFICE OF THE NATIONAL COUNSEL FOR THE DEFENCE OF HUMAN RIGHTS

- A. The National Counsel for the Defence of Human Rights shall be appointed within 90 days following the entry into force of the constitutional reform resulting from the Mexico Agreements.
- B. COPAZ shall be entrusted with preparing the preliminary bill organizing the Office of the National Counsel for the Defence of Human Rights.
- C. The preliminary bill shall establish appropriate means for putting into effect the firm commitment assumed by the Parties in the course of the negotiations to identify and eradicate any groups which engage in a systematic practice of human rights violations, in particular, arbitrary arrests, abductions and summary executions, as well as other attempts on the liberty, integrity and security of persons. This includes the commitment to identify and, where appropriate, abolish and dismantle any clandestine jail or place of detention. In any event, the Parties agree to give top priority to the investigation of such cases, under ONUSAL verification.

ELECTORAL SYSTEM

The Parties reaffirm their commitment, made in the Mexico Agreements, to promote a comprehensive proposal for reform of the electoral system. To that end, they request COPAZ to appoint the Special Commission envisaged for that purpose in the Mexico Agreements. That Commission shall study the preliminary draft amendments to the Electoral Code submitted to the Legislative Assembly by the Central Board of Elections, as well as any proposals put forward by its members or by independent experts invited for that purpose. The Special Commission shall organize its work in such a way that the results can be used within the time-limits set for the reform of the electoral system.

CHAPTER V

ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL QUESTIONS

1. PREAMBLE

One of the prerequisites for the democratic reunification of Salvadorian society is the sustained economic and social development of the country. At the same time, reunification of Salvadorian society and a growing degree of social cohesion are indispensable for fostering development. Hence, the set of agreements required to put a definitive end to the armed conflict in El Salvador must include certain minimum commitments to promote development for the benefit of all sectors of the population.

In accordance with the New York Agreement, the issues covered by this instrument are: the agrarian problem, loans to the agricultural sector, measures required to alleviate the social cost of structural adjustment programmes, appropriate procedures for direct external cooperation designed to encourage community development and assistance projects, establishment of a forum for economic and social consultation and the National Reconstruction Plan. Also, although the general philosophy or orientation of the Government's economic policy, which FMLN does not necessarily share, is not covered by this Agreement, both Parties agree on the need to provide certain basic guidelines so as to ensure the requisite social stability during the transitional period, consolidate peace and make progress towards the reunification of Salvadorian society.

2. THE AGRARIAN PROBLEM

A. Lands in excess of the constitutional limit of 245 hectares

The Government of El Salvador shall transfer rural farmland that has not yet been transferred under articles 105 and 267 of the Constitution of the Republic.

It likewise undertakes to ensure that implementation of the relevant constitutional requirements is not evaded by owners of rural holdings in excess of 245 hectares.

B. State-owned lands which are not currently part of a forestry reserve

The Government of El Salvador shall transfer to beneficiaries of the agrarian reform, as provided in article 104 of the Constitution, State-owned rural farmland which is not part of a forestry reserve.

Under the various land-transfer programmes which the Government of El Salvador is carrying out with State-owned farmland, preference shall be given to former combatants of both Parties who so request voluntarily, are of peasant origin and familiar with farming, and possess no land of any kind. The size of the lots shall be determined by the amount of land available, as mentioned above, and the number of beneficiaries who meet the conditions set out in this section.

C. Lands offered for sale to the State

Making use of the legal, technical and financial resources available to it, the Government of El Salvador shall seek to acquire and transfer through the Land Bank lands voluntarily offered for sale by their owners. Once the said lands are acquired, they shall be transferred to beneficiaries of the agrarian reform.

D. Recipients of lands transferred in accordance with the preceding sections

The lands acquired under sections A, B and C of this chapter shall be used to satisfy the need for land of landless peasants and small farmers. Specifically, title to the land shall be transferred legally to the peasants and small farmers designated by law as beneficiaries of the agrarian reform.

E. Payments for land

The lands referred to in the preceding sections shall be transferred at market prices and on the same credit terms as are granted to beneficiaries of the reformed sector. At the same time, a system of payments may be established on the basis of a fixed price and long-term financing at low, fixed interest rates not subject to interest capitalization. Domestic credit shall be supplemented with financing from international cooperation, for which a special fund, financed from external resources, shall be established for the purchase of land.

F. New legislation

Since the current agrarian legislation is haphazard, contradictory and incomplete, the Parties agree that it must be harmonized and unified into an agrarian code. To this end, the Government shall submit the relevant draft legislation to the Legislative Assembly no later than 12 months after the signalling of this Agreement. If it fails to do so, COPAZ shall take on the task of preparing the corresponding preliminary draft.

3. LANDS WITHIN CONFLICT ZONES

A. The land-tenure system in conflict zones

In accordance with the New York Agreement, the current land-tenure situation in conflict zones shall be respected until a satisfactory legal solution for the definitive land-tenure system is arrived at. Consequently, landholders shall not be evicted pending agreement on such a solution; moreover, they shall be given financial support to increase agricultural production.

In view of the irregularity of the land-tenure system in conflict zones, the Parties agree on the following:

B. Determination as to who are the "current landholders"

"Landholders" shall mean those currently occupying and/or working the land in conflict zones.

C. Inventory of cases covered by this part of the Agreement

Within 30 days from the signing of the Agreement, FMLN shall submit an inventory of land or buildings affected by the Agreement. Upon verification that such land or buildings are in fact subject to the provisions of this Agreement, and in accordance with the procedure set forth in the next section, the Government of El Salvador shall seek to provide a satisfactory legal solution for their final disposal through the voluntary sale of such property by the rightful owners to the current holders, on the terms referred to in section 3 (F) of this chapter.

Should a rightful owner not wish to sell his property, the Government of El Salvador shall make use of the legal mechanisms at its disposal to try to resettle the peasants or small farmers on such land as may be available for the purpose and shall, as far as possible, seek to ensure that such land is situated in the same zones.

D. Establishment of a Special Commission

COPAZ shall appoint a special commission whose members shall be of recognized integrity and ability. The special commission, to be formed within 20 days following the signing of this Agreement, shall be entrusted with the following tasks and duties:

- a. To verify the inventory of affected land or buildings within conflict zones. Once the inventory has been verified, the special commission shall submit copies to the Government of El Salvador and to COPAZ;
- b. Should the need arise, to facilitate the settlement of disputes between current holders and rightful owners;
- c. To take any decisions and measures it deems necessary and proper for the prompt and effective fulfilment of the agreements set forth in this chapter.

E. Legalisation of land tenure

Except for particularly complex cases, the Government of El Salvador shall legalise the land-tenure situation in conflict zones definitively within six months from the signing of the cease-fire agreement, granting, as appropriate, individual or collective title to the land.

F. Payment for lands

Lands shall be purchased from their former owners at market prices. The sale to the current holders shall be subject to the same conditions as those granted to beneficiaries of the reformed sector. However, special conditions may be agreed to in the interests of the peace process.

G. Verification by COPAZ

COPAZ shall guarantee fulfilment of the agreements set forth in sections 2 and 3.

4. 3 JULY 1991 AGREEMENT ON OCCUPIED LANDS

The agreement on occupied lands between the Government of El Salvador and peasant organisations shall be respected.

With regard to lands occupied illegally after the date of that agreement, the Government of El Salvador gives notice that it reserves the right to enforce the relevant legal provisions so as to ensure that the rule of law prevails. FMLN holds that the agrarian problem, including land occupations, should be dealt with through consultation and the channels and mechanisms provided by the peace agreements.

5. LOANS TO THE AGRICULTURAL SECTOR AND TO MICRO- AND SMALL-SCALE ENTERPRISE

A. Loans to the sector as a whole

The Government of El Salvador shall see to it that the national financial system has the resources it needs to meet the demand for credit of the agricultural sector in general and of micro- and small-scale enterprise and small-scale peasant production, including cooperatives in the reformed and the non-reformed sector, in particular.

It shall also establish rules governing loans for agricultural and industrial production so that such loans are granted in a timely manner and in amounts sufficient to sustain productive capacity and the marketing of the goods produced. To that end, it shall promote an increase in loans by the commercial banking system to small businessmen and small-scale enterprises.

B. Active involvement of target sectors

The Government also undertakes to permit and promote the active involvement of target sectors in both the design and the administration of special credit programmes for those sectors. To that end, the Government undertakes to increase the participation of organizations representing the sectors referred to in the preceding section in developing policies of the Agricultural Guarantee Fund, FIGAPE, FEDECREDITO and BFA, and to ensure that the financial position of these institutions remains sound and that they become conduits for channeling external resources into loans for micro- and small-scale enterprise, small-scale peasant production and cooperatives in both the reformed and the non-reformed sector.

C. Technical assistance

The Government of El Salvador shall design and promote new programmes of technical assistance to help increase the productivity of peasant farmers and smallholders, especially in conflict zones.

D. International cooperation for the agricultural sector

Given the increase in the demand for agricultural credit that will follow the signing of the Peace Agreement, the Government of El Salvador undertakes to seek additional external resources to cover the new needs of the sector. In this connection, the Government shall seek external financial resources to increase the operations of the Agricultural Guarantee Fund as a mechanism for facilitating lending to small- and medium-sized farmers and their cooperatives, without adversely affecting the financial health of lending institutions.

6. MEASURES TO ALLEVIATE THE SOCIAL COST OF STRUCTURAL ADJUSTMENT PROGRAMMES

A. Consumer protection

The Government of El Salvador undertakes to adopt policies and create effective mechanisms for consumer protection in accordance with the requirements set out in the last part of article 101, paragraph 2, of the Constitution. In order to comply with this constitutional requirement, the Government undertakes to submit to the Legislative Assembly, within 60 days from the signing of this Agreement, a consumer protection bill providing for the strengthening of the Ministry of Economic Affairs, which could be a first step towards the establishment of an Office of Consumer Protection Advocate (Procuraduría General de Defensa del Consumidor).

B. Privatisation

The policy of privatisation shall increase society's share of ownership by affording workers access to ownership of privatized companies. It shall also avoid monopolistic practices, while guaranteeing business freedom and consumer protection, in accordance with the provisions of article 110 of the Constitution.

C. Social welfare programmes

The Government of El Salvador shall seek to strengthen existing social welfare programmes designed to alleviate extreme poverty. Additional external resources shall be sought for this purpose.

7. PROCEDURES FOR DIRECT EXTERNAL COOPERATION FOR COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AND ASSISTANCE PROJECTS

The Government of El Salvador shall facilitate private direct external cooperation for community development and assistance projects, provided that assistance is channelled in accordance with foreign exchange and lending regulations. Official direct external cooperation may also be approved, subject to the provision of the requisite information on the purposes of such cooperation.

The Government shall grant legal and institutional facilities to private sources of direct external cooperation benefitting communities, social organisations and national non-governmental organisations; it shall not discriminate among the latter, provided that it is ascertained that they are engaged in or wish to engage in integrated development projects. Former combatants of both Parties shall have access to external cooperation funds.

8. FORUM FOR ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL CONSULTATION

A. Purpose of the Forum

A forum shall be established in which representatives of the Government, labour and the business community shall participate on an equal footing for the purpose of working out a set of broad agreements on the economic and social development of the country for the benefit of all its inhabitants. The consultation process shall be a sustained effort and shall be conducted in phases, bearing in mind that the aim is to reach some agreements that are to be implemented immediately to achieve stabilization, others that are designed to tackle the economic and social problems that will ensue from the end of the conflict and still others that are geared specifically to reconstruction.

Among other things, the Government shall propose to the Forum for Economic and Social Consultation that existing labour legislation be revised in order to promote and maintain a climate of harmonious labour relations, without prejudice to the unemployed and the public at large. It shall also propose that the situation of disadvantaged urban and outlying urban communities be analysed with a view to proposing solutions to problems resulting from the armed conflict of recent years. In general terms, the Forum shall be the mechanism for agreeing on measures to alleviate the social cost of the structural adjustment programme.

B. Establishment of the Forum

COPAZ shall convene the Forum for Economic and Social Consultation for the first time no later than one month after the signing of this Agreement.

C. Composition of and representation in the Forum

The composition of the Forum and the representation in it of the various sectors and the Government shall be as follows:

- a. The Government of El Salvador shall be represented at a high level, its representatives being empowered to take decisions on economic and social matters;
- b. The most representative labour and business organizations shall be invited to represent those sectors.

In addition, the Forum may invite other social and political sectors to participate in its work as observers, on terms to be determined by it.

D. Powers of the Forum

The Forum shall determine its own operational structure and the issues for discussion and consultations. The sectors represented in the Forum shall have equal rights and shall enjoy equal opportunities for expressing their views.

In order to guarantee the effectiveness of the agreements reached by the Forum by consensus, the Government undertakes to issue, amend or repeal decrees or provisions within its sphere of competence and to submit relevant proposals to the other organs of State.

E. Secretariat of the Forum

The Forum shall appoint a secretariat to provide it with technical support and ensure the continuity of its work.

9. NATIONAL RECONSTRUCTION PLAN

Within 30 days from the signing of the agreement on the cessation of the armed conflict, the Government of El Salvador shall submit to FMLN the National Reconstruction Plan which it has drawn up, so that the recommendations and suggestions of FMLN, like those of the various sectors of national life, may be taken into account, ensuring that the Plan reflects the country's collective wishes.

The main objectives of the Plan shall be the integrated development of zones affected by the conflict, satisfaction of the most immediate needs of the population hardest hit by the conflict and of former combatants of both Parties, and the reconstruction of damaged infrastructure. In particular, in the context of the corresponding national programmes, measures shall be taken to facilitate the reintegration of FMLN into the country's civil, institutional and political life, including fellowship, employment and pension programmes, housing programmes and programmes for starting up new businesses.

The Plan shall pay special attention to the need to promote job creation on a massive scale and to increase the production of basic foodstuffs, which shall be a priority for the State. To that end, the Government shall promote the integrated development of agricultural, stockbreeding, fisheries, forestry and agro-industrial activities, guarantee the provision of basic social services and launch the construction and rehabilitation of economic and social infrastructures. The National Reconstruction Plan shall also include programmes for the war-disabled and the relatives of victims among the civilian population.

Given the magnitude of the additional resources that will be required for the implementation of the Plan, both Parties appeal to the international community to lend its fullest support to the fund-raising effort. To this end, a national reconstruction fund shall be established, to be supported by the United Nations Development Programme.

The role of UNDP shall include advising the Government on all matters relating to the mobilization of external support, assisting in the preparation of projects and programmes likely to attract such support, facilitating approaches to official bilateral and multilateral agencies, mobilizing technical assistance and cooperating with the Government in harmonizing the Plan with the activities of non-governmental organizations involved in local and regional development activities.

CHAPTER VI

POLITICAL PARTICIPATION BY FMLN

The following agreements have been reached concerning political participation by FMLN, and shall be subject to the implementation of a timetable contained in this Agreement:

1. Adoption of legislative or other measures needed to guarantee former FMLN combatants the full exercise of their civil and political rights, with a view to their reintegration, within a framework of full legality, into the civil, political, and institutional life of the country.

2. Freedom for all political prisoners.
3. Full guarantees and security for the return of exiles, war-wounded and other persons currently outside the country for reasons related to the armed conflict.
4. Granting of licences for FMLN mass media.
5. Cessation of the armed conflict implies the commitment and the right of FMLN to full political participation, without any restrictions other than those deriving from the new institutional and legal framework established by the agreements reached during the negotiations.
6. Legalization of FMLN as a political party, through the adoption of a legislative decree to that end.
7. Guarantee that FMLN will be able to conduct its activities normally when it becomes a political party, meaning:
 - (a) Freedom to canvass for new members;
 - (b) The right to set up an appropriate infrastructure (premises, printing works, etc.);
 - (c) Free exercise of the right of assembly and mobilization for FMLN leaders, activists and members;
 - (d) Freedom for FMLN to purchase and use advertising space in the mass media.
8. Legal solution to the participation of FMLN members in COPAZ, once the latter formalizes its existence.
9. Special security measures

Immediately after the signing of this Agreement, special security measures shall be taken to protect any FMLN leaders who may require such protection. The aforesaid measures, which may include their being accompanied by diplomatic personnel and also technical support from friendly Governments, shall offer all the facilities required for FMLN leaders to be able to organize their own security in accordance with the law. COPAZ shall supervise the arrangements agreed to herein and shall, if necessary, promote the adoption of the relevant legislative or other provisions to ensure that such security measures are fully effective and properly established. As part of its responsibility for the security of FMLN leaders, the Government of El Salvador shall provide the necessary facilities for implementing the agreed arrangements. ONUSAL shall verify the adoption of the above measures.

CHAPTER VII

CESSATION OF THE ARMED CONFLICT

1. The cessation of the armed conflict (hereinafter referred to as the CAC) is a brief, dynamic and irreversible process of predetermined duration which must be implemented throughout the national territory of El Salvador. During the CAC, there shall be no substantive negotiations but only the measures necessary to put into practice the agreements reached during the negotiating process.
2. The CAC shall begin on 1 February 1992 (hereinafter referred to as D-Day) and shall be completed on 31 October 1992.
3. The CAC consists of four elements, as defined herein:
 - (a) The cease-fire;
 - (b) The separation of forces;
 - (c) The end of the military structure of FMLN and the reintegration of its members, within a framework of full legality, into the civil, political and institutional life of the country;
 - (d) United Nations verification of all the above-mentioned activities.

This chapter also includes agreements on the restoration of public administration in conflict zones and the use of the mass media to promote reconciliation (see annexes E and F).

The cease-fire

4. The cease-fire shall enter into force officially on D-Day.
5. As of that date, each of the parties shall, as appropriate, refrain from carrying out any hostile act or operation by means of forces or individuals under its control, meaning that neither party shall carry out any kind of attack by land, sea or air, organise patrols or offensive manoeuvres, occupy new positions, lay mines, interfere with military communications or carry out any kind of reconnaissance operations, acts of sabotage or any other military activity which, in the opinion of ONUSAL, might violate the cease-fire, or any act that infringes the rights of the civilian population.
6. Official verification of compliance with the undertaking described in the preceding paragraph shall begin on D-Day. Any alleged violation of the cease-fire shall be investigated by ONUSAL.

7. During the period between the signing of this Agreement and D-Day, the two parties shall observe an informal cease-fire under which they undertake not to carry out any of the activities described in paragraph 5.

8. ONUSAL shall deploy its personnel and equipment during the informal cease-fire period, so as to be able to verify all aspects of the CAC as of D-Day.

Separation of forces

9. The purpose of the separation of forces is to reduce the risk of incidents, to build trust and to allow ONUSAL to verify both parties' compliance with this Agreement.

10. The separation of forces shall take place in two stages, so that the Salvadorian armed forces (FAES) fall back progressively from their present positions until deployed as they would normally be in peacetime and the FMLN forces are concentrated progressively in designated locations within conflict areas as determined in annex D.

11. During the first stage, which shall coincide with the five days following D-Day, FAES land forces shall go to the barracks, bases, existing semi-permanent facilities and other locations listed in annex A and FMLN forces, except for the combatants mentioned in paragraph 18, shall go to the places listed in annex B. The places listed in annexes A and B generally reflect the present deployment of the two parties' forces.

12. The movements described in the preceding paragraph shall be made under the supervision of ONUSAL. Neither party shall do anything to prevent or jeopardize the movement of the other party's forces during this period. ONUSAL military observers shall closely supervise all the places listed in annexes A and B and shall in principle be present 24 hours a day in each of those places as of D-Day.

13. During the period between D-Day + 6 days and D-Day + 30 days, FAES land forces shall fall back to their peacetime positions as listed in annex C and FMLN forces, except for the combatants mentioned in paragraph 18, shall fall back to the locations indicated in annex D. The precise designation of such locations shall be determined by the ONUSAL Chief Military Observer, in consultation with the two parties, during the informal cease-fire period.

14. The movements described in the preceding paragraph, which shall also be supervised by ONUSAL, shall be carried out according to phased programmes agreed between the ONUSAL Chief Military Observer and the two parties during the informal cease-fire period, through the joint working group to which reference is made in paragraph 32. During this task, the group shall be guided as appropriate by the agreed timetable for the implementation of the agreements reached.

15. As soon as possible after the signing of this Agreement but no later than two weeks before D-Day, the FAES shall transmit to the ONUSAL Chief Military Observer detailed information on the number of their troops and weapons to be concentrated in the places listed in annex A.

16. As soon as possible after the signing of this Agreement but no later than two weeks before D-Day, FMLN shall supply the ONUSAL Chief Military Observer with detailed information on its troop strength and inventories of arms, ammunition, mines, other explosives and military equipment located anywhere within the national territory. These arms, etc. shall be concentrated in the places listed in annex B, with the exception of those of its clandestine forces, which shall be concentrated in the places listed in annex D during the second stage of the separation of forces.

17. Upon completion of the first stage of the separation of forces, that is, as of D-Day + 6, ONUSAL shall verify that all troops and military equipment declared by the parties, other than the arms, etc. referred to in the last sentence of the preceding paragraph, have been concentrated in the locations listed in annexes A and B. ONUSAL shall investigate any report or allegation of the presence of troops or military equipment in any place other than those locations, apart from the movements authorized in paragraphs 20-22.

18. The arrangements just described relate to FAES land forces and FMLN forces as defined in paragraph 11. Although it is not possible, for practical reasons, to arrange a similar separation of clandestine forces, the latter shall remain fully subject to the undertaking to refrain from carrying out any hostile act or operation. As provided in paragraph 6, any alleged violation of this undertaking shall be investigated by ONUSAL.

19. As of D-Day, the naval and air force components of the FAES shall refrain from carrying out any offensive operation. They shall carry out only such non-hostile missions as are necessary for the discharge of their duties unrelated to the armed conflict. ONUSAL shall be advised in advance of all military flight plans. Such flights shall not be carried out over places where FMLN forces have been concentrated.

20. During the CAC period, ONUSAL liaison officers shall be posted in FAES units, bases and barracks to coordinate in advance the movements of FAES forces throughout the national territory and to verify that such movements will neither violate the cease-fire nor jeopardize in any other way the process of implementing this Agreement.

21. With special reference to FAES forces deployed near places where there are FMLN forces, in other words, those listed in appendix 1 to annex A and those listed in appendix 1 to annex C, the Government agrees that such forces shall be authorized to leave their locations only with the consent of ONUSAL and for the following purposes:

- (a) To carry out troop rotations and relief;
- (b) To carry out liaison and coordination activities between commands at battalion level and above;
- (c) To deliver logistical supplies;
- (d) To take part in programmes for the deactivation, removal and destruction of mines;
- (e) To go on leave or seek medical care or for other humanitarian reasons, individually, in civilian clothing and unarmed.

However, ONUSAL shall not grant permission for any movement, even in the above cases, if it believes that such movement could jeopardize the cease-fire or other aspects of this Agreement or disturb the process of détente and reconciliation. Forces that leave their locations for the purposes listed in paragraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d) shall be accompanied by ONUSAL, which shall verify that such movements are in keeping with this Agreement.

22. Similarly, during the CAC period ONUSAL liaison officers shall be posted in the listed locations where FMLN forces are to be concentrated in order to coordinate movements by those forces. FMLN agrees that its forces may leave the locations in question only with the consent of ONUSAL and for the following purposes:

- (a) To carry out liaison and coordination activities between its high command and the commands of the forces stationed at the various locations indicated;
- (b) To supply provisions, clothing or vital necessities;
- (c) To take part in programmes for the deactivation, removal and destruction of mines;
- (d) To go on leave or seek medical care or for other humanitarian reasons, individually, in civilian clothing and unarmed.

However, ONUSAL shall not grant permission for any movement, even in the above cases, if it believes that such movement could jeopardize the cease-fire or other aspects of this Agreement or disturb the process of détente and reconciliation. Forces that leave their locations for the purposes listed in paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) shall be accompanied by ONUSAL, which shall verify that such movements are in keeping with this Agreement.

23. ONUSAL shall verify that the supplies delivered to each party do not include lethal articles. However, the FAES shall be allowed to maintain stocks of ammunition normal for peacetime. The mechanisms for such verification shall be established by the ONUSAL Chief Military Observer in consultation with the two parties.

24. During the cease-fire, COPAZ shall systematically evaluate the progress being made in implementing the Agreements. If it notes that a situation is developing which might result in a crisis, it shall draw such conclusions and make such recommendations as may be necessary to prevent a collapse of the cease-fire or a crisis of public order. It shall transmit its conclusions and recommendations to the Chief of ONUSAL.

25. Should a public order crisis occur despite the above provisions and if the normal means for the maintenance of domestic peace and public security have been exhausted, with the result that the President of the Republic deems it necessary to make use of the exceptional measures provided for in the amendment to article 168 (12) of the Constitution adopted in April 1991, the President shall, before giving the relevant order, inform the Chief of ONUSAL to enable him to make any appropriate remarks. The actions of the FAES under such circumstances shall be monitored closely by ONUSAL to ensure that they are consistent with all the peace Agreements.

End of the military structure of FMLN and reintegration of its members, within a framework of full legality, into the civil, institutional and political life of the country

26. Between D-Day + 6 and D-Day + 30, according to the phased programmes referred to in paragraph 14, FMLN shall concentrate in the 15 designated locations listed in annex D all arms, ammunition, mines, other explosives and military equipment belonging to its forces, both those concentrated during the first stage in the places listed in annex B and those belonging to its clandestine forces, and ONUSAL shall verify that they tally with the information given in the inventories it has received in accordance with paragraph 16.

27. In each of the 15 designated locations, all the arms and equipment mentioned above, save for the personal weapons and equipment of combatants present in the place, shall be kept in locked warehouses. Each warehouse shall have two locks, one key to which shall be kept by ONUSAL and the other by the FMLN commander in the place. ONUSAL shall verify the contents of such warehouses periodically to ensure that there has been no change in them.

28. During the CAC period, FMLN members shall keep their personal weapons and equipment as long as they remain in the designated locations. When they leave those places in order to be reintegrated, within a framework of full legality, into the civil, political and institutional life of the country, their personal weapons shall also be deposited in the locked warehouses referred to in the preceding paragraph. Combatants who are still in the designated locations when the programme for the destruction of arms, etc. provided for in the next paragraph begins, shall deposit their personal weapons and equipment in the locked warehouses, for verification by ONUSAL, immediately prior to their destruction according to a programme agreed with ONUSAL.

29. Between 15 and 31 October 1992, FMLN shall destroy all arms and equipment deposited in designated locations according to the arrangement described above, in the presence and under the sole supervision of ONUSAL and with its technical advice. Such destruction shall be carried out simultaneously in all 15 places designated for FMLN. FMLN shall dispose of the remains of the destroyed weapons.

United Nations verification

30. The numbers of ONUSAL military and civilian personnel shall be increased to enable it to fulfil its tasks related to the agreed processes, as described in this Agreement.

31. The Secretary-General shall request the Security Council to approve this increase in the mandate and personnel of ONUSAL. He shall also request the General Assembly to provide the necessary funding from the budget. The composition by country of the military component of ONUSAL and the appointment of the commander of its military division shall be decided by the Security Council on the recommendation of the Secretary-General, who shall first consult with the two parties. In order to fulfil its new tasks effectively, ONUSAL will require, as in the other aspects of its mandate, complete freedom of movement throughout the territory of El Salvador.

32. To facilitate the application of this Agreement, a joint working group shall be set up immediately after the Agreement has been signed. The working group shall consist of the ONUSAL Chief Military Observer, as Chairman, and one representative from each of the parties. The members of the working group may be accompanied by the necessary advisers. The Chairman of the working group shall convene its meetings on his own initiative or at the request of either or both of the parties.

C. REMARKS

1. The guarding of non-military facilities of national importance will be determined by their strategic importance from an economic and military standpoint. The personnel assigned to this task will in all cases be the minimum necessary.
2. The task of guarding these facilities will be gradually handed over to the newly formed National Civil Police, as soon as the latter is in a position to take over these functions.
3. Both technical military personnel and guards will be assigned to relay stations, with the number of guards kept to the minimum necessary. During the informal cease-fire, the ONUSAL Chief Military Observer, in consultation with the Government, will establish a ceiling for the number of troops to be stationed at each relay station for the above reasons. A similar ceiling will be established for the El Roblar military base.

4. The Government of El Salvador will not concentrate troops or build military facilities at the navy posts listed in 37, 38 and 39.

5. The list of peacetime facilities does not take into account the possible outcome of the application of agreements on the armed forces.

6. The maintenance of a number of military bases in peacetime is justified by the need to protect El Salvador's borders, and the appropriate arrangements will be adopted for this purpose. Those peacetime facilities whose occupation during the CAC might arouse concern will not be occupied. In this connection, the ONUSAL Chief Military Observer may determine, in consultation with the parties, which peacetime facilities should not be occupied during the CAC period.

ANNEX E

RESTORATION OF PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION IN CONFLICT ZONES

With the entry into force of the cease-fire, public administration shall gradually be restored in conflict zones, in accordance with the following principles:

- A. The full range of public services (such as water, electricity, telecommunications and roads) and other services provided by the State in such areas as agriculture, education and health shall be restored as soon as possible.
- B. Mayors who, because of the armed conflict, have performed their functions on an itinerant basis shall take up residence in their respective municipalities as soon as possible, in close consultation with ONUSAL, in order to strengthen the process of détente and reconciliation.
- C. The administration of justice shall be re-established in a manner appropriate to the purposes of this Agreement and, in particular, to the process of peace and reconciliation. Accordingly:
 - (a) The administration of justice shall be re-established as soon as possible, in close consultation with ONUSAL, in order to strengthen the process of détente and reconciliation.
 - (b) The Government shall take appropriate steps to ensure that the re-establishment of the administration of justice does not impair the effectiveness of the legislative or other measures adopted within the framework of this Agreement and of the peace and reconciliation process to guarantee members of FMLN the full exercise of their civil and political rights.
- D. The restoration of public administration shall not be detrimental to either the existence or the functioning of the non-governmental organizations of a cultural, economic or social nature that have been established in conflict zones. As part of the process of peace and reconciliation, appropriate channels between these organizations and the respective authorities shall be maintained, with the support of ONUSAL.

ANNEX F

USE OF THE MASS MEDIA TO PROMOTE RECONCILIATION

For the purpose of assisting the process of détente and reconciliation:

- A. Once this Agreement is signed, the Government shall not jam FMLN radio stations.
- B. As from D-day, both Parties undertake to:
 - (a) Promote, through the various mass media at their disposal, a national publicity campaign in favour of the reunification and reconciliation of Salvadorian society.
 - (b) Refrain from any propaganda or information policy that is inconsistent with this Agreement or with the process of détente and reconciliation.
- C. COPAZ shall monitor the above undertakings and shall transmit to the Parties any recommendations it deems relevant. It may also make suggestions for the participation of the various sectors of civilian society and, in particular, the mass media in the national reconciliation campaign.
- D. ONUSAL shall verify fulfilment of these undertakings.

CHAPTER VIII

UNITED NATIONS VERIFICATION

1. The United Nations shall verify compliance with this Agreement and with the San José, Mexico City and New York Agreements of 26 July 1990, 27 April 1991 and 25 September 1991, respectively, with the cooperation of the Parties and of the authorities whose duty it is to enforce them.
2. The international cooperation referred to in this Agreement shall be coordinated by the United Nations and shall be subject to a formal application by the Government, compliance with official formalities and the appropriate consultations.

OUTLINE FOR THE DRAFTING OF THE ACT CONCERNING THE AUTHORIZATION, REGISTRATION AND MONITORING OF SECURITY GROUPS OR UNITS FOR PROTECTING THE PROPERTY OF THE STATE, CORPORATIONS OR INDIVIDUALS, AND PRIVATE SECURITY PERSONNEL

I. PREAMBULAR PARAGRAPHS:

1. Refer to the relevant articles and subparagraphs of the Constitution which may have a bearing on the purposes of the act.
2. Need to regulate, coordinate and integrate these functions, setting up a body responsible for monitoring them.
3. Develop a suitable framework for regulating the functioning of these types of groups, units and persons who provide security services, in relation to their role in a democratic society.

II. ARTICLES:

1. Purpose of the act.
2. Scope:
 - a. Any group, unit or person providing security services to State institutions, other public or private institutions, and individuals.
 - b. The following shall be regulated according to the type of security provided:
 - (1) The number and type of personnel;
 - (2) The number and type of weapons, and equipment in general;
 - (3) Facilities for housing security personnel, training, and also storing weapons, ammunition and equipment.
 - c. Determination of mechanisms for the monitoring and supervision of security groups, entities and personnel by the National Civil Police, without prejudice to the jurisdiction of other organs and officials authorized by the Constitution or by the law.
 - d. Determination of the powers and responsibilities of the monitoring body.

3. Establishment of the judicial and legal formalities for obtaining the necessary authorization to provide security services regulated by this act.
4. Establishment of the regime of powers granted to such groups, units or persons for the discharge of their functions.
5. Determination of the monitoring mechanisms to be used by the monitoring body and of the specific requirements to be fulfilled by such groups, units or persons:
 - a. Registration of firms or individuals specifically providing security services;
 - b. Special requirements to be fulfilled by persons responsible for the organization and operation of such firms;
 - c. Registration of the personnel of security firms;
 - d. Requirements and conditions for the recruitment of personnel by such firms, and conditions to be fulfilled by persons providing security services individually, including evidence of their respect for human rights;
 - e. Registration of facilities, weapons, ammunition and equipment.
6. Prohibitions:

Prohibit the existence or the functioning of any private armed groups which are not regulated and which do not fulfil the requirements established by this act.
7. Request by the monitoring body to such firms, groups or persons for information on the type of security to be developed for the provision of such services.
8. Establishment of the requisite procedures to enable any individual or legal entity to obtain authorization to hire security personnel.
9. Regulations for the establishment, functioning and monitoring of private detective agencies.
10. Determination of compliance with any special registers which may have been established by other laws with respect to certain necessary weapons, equipment or supplies to be used by such firms or groups.
11. Determination of the limits on personnel, weapons, ammunition, equipment and matériel in general, according to the type of security to be provided, and the proportions which must exist among them.

12. Determination of the deadlines for fulfilling the requirements set forth in this act.
13. Issuance by the monitoring body of whatever regulations and instructions may be necessary for carrying out the activities regulated by this act.
14. Establishment of various penalties for failure to comply with the provisions of this act.
15. Establishment of a transitional regime laying down peremptory deadlines for verifying that such entities and their personnel meet the requirements established by law for performing such functions, as a condition of their continuing to provide such services; surrender of weapons, ammunition and equipment not authorized under this act; and harmonization of juridical procedures in this area.
16. Establishment of an evaluation mechanism which will, within two years from this agreement, give an opinion on the advisability of continuing to authorize the functioning of the entities in question.
17. Repeal of any laws or provisions which conflict with this act.

ANNEX II

PRELIMINARY BILL ORGANIZING THE NATIONAL CIVIL POLICE

THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF THE REPUBLIC OF EL SALVADOR

Whereas

In accordance with paragraph 17 of article 168 of the Constitution, it is the responsibility of the President of the Republic: "To command, organize and maintain the National Civil Police to preserve peace, tranquillity, order and public security, in both urban and rural areas, adhering strictly to respect for human rights and under the control of civilian authorities. The National Civil Police and the armed forces shall be independent and shall be placed under the authority of different ministries",

The establishment of the National Civil Police must be accompanied by an act organizing and regulating it institutionally,

HEREBY DECREES

TITLE I

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Article 1

The National Civil Police of El Salvador shall have the mission of protecting and safeguarding the free exercise of the rights and freedoms of individuals, preventing and combating all types of crimes and maintaining internal peace, tranquillity, order and public security throughout the national territory.

There shall be no other armed police body with national jurisdiction.

Article 2

The National Civil Police shall be an armed institution which is civilian and professional in nature and is free from all partisan activity. Its structure and organization shall be hierarchical, under the supreme command of the President of the Republic, who shall exercise such command through the Minister of the Interior and Public Security and the Vice-Minister for Public Security.

Article 3

Under the authority of the Minister and of the Vice-Minister for Public Security, the day-to-day command of the police shall be exercised by the Director-General of Police. The Director-General shall direct and monitor the implementation of the public security policy formulated by the Government. He shall also be the supreme administrative authority of the National Civil Police.

The Director-General of Police shall be appointed by the President of the Republic. He may be dismissed by resolution of the Legislative Assembly for serious violations of human rights, as provided in the Constitution.

Article 4

Under the authority of the Director-General, the General Inspectorate of Police shall be responsible for monitoring and supervising the activities of the operational services of the force.

The Inspector General shall be appointed by the Director-General, in consultation with the Attorney-General of the Republic and the National Counsel for the Defence of Human Rights.

The General Inspectorate shall comprise a Monitoring Division, which shall have the function of monitoring all police services, and a Disciplinary Investigation Division, which shall have the function of investigating breaches of discipline by police officers.

Article 5

The Director-General shall be assisted by a Deputy Director-General for Operations and a Deputy Director-General for Management.

The Deputy Director-General for Operations shall be responsible for implementing and coordinating the activities of central divisions and departmental police delegations.

The Deputy Director-General for Management shall be responsible for implementing and coordinating the administrative and logistical support activities of the police.

Article 6

The National Civil Police shall have the following central divisions: Public Security; Criminal Investigation; Frontiers; Finance; Arms and Explosives; Protection of Eminent Persons; Environment; and others to be established by order of the President of the Republic. Chiefs of division shall be appointed by the Director-General of Police, on the proposal of the Deputy Director-General for Operations. In the case of the Chief of the Criminal Investigation Division, prior consultation shall also be required with the President of the Judiciary and the Attorney-General of the Republic. In the case of the Chief of the Finance Division, the prior approval of the Minister of Finance shall be required.

Article 7

The Public Security Division shall be responsible for the maintenance of tranquillity, order and public security.

Article 8

Under the functional control of the Attorney-General of the Republic, the Criminal Investigation Division shall be responsible for investigating criminal acts and gathering evidence to identify the perpetrators of such acts. It shall also carry out investigations and other activities within its field of competence as required by the Attorney-General of the Republic, judges and courts.

...

Article 9

The Frontiers Division shall be responsible for monitoring and supervising the admission, departure, activities and, where necessary, expulsion of aliens and the migration of nationals and for the monitoring and supervision of public and private national airports, without prejudice to the constitutional duty of the armed forces to defend the integrity of the territory of the State.

Article 10

Under the functional control of the Ministry of Finance, the Finance Division shall be responsible for preventing and combating infringements of tax law, without prejudice to the fiscal oversight or other functions performed by that Ministry, for which it shall serve as police support organ. It shall have two departments: customs and taxes.

The Finance Division shall be the only police organ with competence in the areas of customs and taxes. Consequently, following its entry into operation, all provisions and structures incompatible with this principle shall cease to exist.

Article 11

The Arms and Explosives Division shall be responsible for preventing and combating infringements of the constitutional and legal regime on the manufacture, import, export, trading, possession and bearing of weapons, ammunition, explosives and similar articles.

Article 12

The Division for the Protection of Eminent Persons shall be responsible for protecting and escorting senior State officials; foreign dignitaries visiting the country; and other persons on the basis of decisions of the Government or of the courts; and for guarding public buildings and the offices of diplomatic missions or international organizations.

Article 13

Under the functional control of the Ministry of Agriculture and Livestock, the Environment Division shall be responsible for preventing and combating crimes and misdemeanours against the environment.

Article 14

There shall be one police delegation per department and one metropolitan delegation for the city of San Salvador, to which all police units of the corresponding district shall report. The organizational structure of delegations shall be adapted to the needs and characteristics of each department.

Chiefs of delegations shall be appointed by the Director-General of Police on the proposal of the Deputy Director-General for Operations, who shall be their direct supervisor. The headquarters of delegations shall be located in departmental capitals.

Within each delegation, there shall be subdelegations and police posts as required for local needs.

Article 15

The Office of the Deputy Director-General for Management shall be responsible for implementing and coordinating the administrative and logistical support activities of the police. It shall consist of the following divisions: Infrastructure Division; Data-Processing Division; Administration Division; Logistics Division; Planning and Budget Division; and others to be established by order of the President of the Republic. Chiefs of division shall be appointed by the Director-General of Police, on the proposal of the Deputy Director-General for Management.

Article 16

Ordinary courts shall be competent to try crimes committed against members of the National Civil Police, as well as crimes committed by them, even in the exercise of their functions.

TITLE II

FUNCTIONS OF THE POLICE

Article 17

The functions of the National Civil Police shall be to:

1. Protect and safeguard the free exercise of the rights and freedoms of citizens throughout the national territory.

2. Maintain internal peace, tranquillity, order and public security.
3. Prevent and combat all types of crimes.
4. Make arrests in the cases provided by law.
5. Monitor and supervise the admission, departure, activities and expulsion of aliens and the migration of nationals and monitor and supervise public and private national airports, without prejudice to the constitutional duty of the armed forces to defend the integrity of the territory of the State.
6. Prevent and combat infringements of tax law, under the terms set out in article 10.
7. Grant protection to persons and property throughout the national territory, under the terms set out in article 12.
8. Prevent and combat infringements of the constitutional and legal regime on the manufacture, import, export, trading, possession and bearing of weapons, ammunition, explosives and similar articles.
9. Monitor private security entities or services.
10. Oversee passenger and goods traffic on public thoroughfares and ensure the safety of the roads.
11. Safeguard all land, sea and air communication routes from frontiers, ports and airports.
12. Enforce provisions relating to the protection of the environment.
13. Guard the perimeter of penitentiaries and escort prisoners and detainees.
14. Provide members of the judiciary with the support they need to enforce their decisions.
15. Provide the Attorney-General of the Republic with the support he needs to investigate crimes and, in particular, criminal acts which must be subject to criminal jurisdiction.
16. Provide the National Counsel for the Defence of Human Rights with the support he needs to discharge his duties.
17. Compile and classify data for the preparation of national crime statistics.
18. Assist citizens in cases of public disaster.

19. Participate in any social, civic, cultural or educational programmes which the Government may order through the Minister or Vice-Minister.
20. Any other functions which may be assigned to it by law.

For the purpose of exercising the powers mentioned in subparagraphs 14, 15 and 16 of this article, the Director-General of Police shall detach the necessary police officers at the request of the judge, the Attorney-General of the Republic or the National Counsel for the Defence of Human Rights, as the case may be. In such circumstances, the officers thus detached shall remain within the organizational structure of the National Civil Police, but shall be under the functional authority of the judge, the Attorney-General of the Republic or the National Counsel for the Defence of Human Rights, as the case may be. The request or authorization of the latter authorities shall be essential in order to release such officers from the duties thus entrusted to them.

Article 18

The exercise of police functions shall be subject to the following code of conduct:

1. Members of the National Civil Police shall at all times observe the duties imposed on them by law, serving the community and protecting all persons from illegal acts, in keeping with the high degree of responsibility required by their profession.
2. In the performance of their tasks, members of the National Civil Police shall respect and protect human dignity and shall preserve and defend the human rights of all persons.
3. Questions of a confidential nature of which members of the National Civil Police have knowledge shall be kept secret, unless compliance with duty or the needs of justice strictly demand otherwise.
4. No member of the National Civil Police may inflict, instigate or tolerate any act of torture or other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment, nor invoke the orders of a superior or special circumstances, such as a state of war or threat of war, threats to national security, internal political instability or any other public emergency to justify torture or other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment.
5. Members of the National Civil Police shall ensure full protection of the integrity and health of persons in their custody and, in particular, shall take immediate steps to provide medical care when necessary.
6. Members of the National Civil Police shall not commit any act of corruption. They shall also strongly oppose such acts and shall combat them.

7. Members of the National Civil Police who have reason to believe that a breach of these rules of conduct has occurred or is about to occur shall so inform their superiors and, if necessary, any authority or appropriate agency having powers of control or correction.

Article 19

Members of the National Civil Police shall wear the regulation uniform whenever they are on active duty. In exceptional cases, the Minister, or in his absence, the Vice-Minister or the Director-General may give authorisation for not wearing uniforms for certain tasks.

Article 20

Members of the National Civil Police shall bear regulation firearms when warranted by the circumstances and their duties.

The use of firearms shall be governed by the following norms:

1. In the performance of their functions, members of the National Civil Police shall, as far as possible, utilize non-violent means before resorting to the use of force and firearms. They may use force and firearms only when other means prove ineffective or do not in any way guarantee the achievement of the legitimate anticipated result.
2. Members of the National Civil Police shall not use firearms against people except in self-defence or in defence of other people, or in case of imminent danger of death or serious injury, or with the intention of preventing the commission of a particularly serious crime involving a serious threat to life, or for the purpose of arresting a person who represents such a threat and resists their authority, and only where less extreme means prove insufficient to achieve such objectives. In any case, lethal weapons may be used intentionally only when strictly unavoidable for the protection of a life.
3. When the use of firearms becomes unavoidable, members of the National Civil Police shall:
 - (a) Exercise restraint and take action proportional to the seriousness of the crime and the legitimate objective pursued;
 - (b) Reduce damage and injury to a minimum and respect and protect human life;
 - (c) Ensure that medical assistance and services are provided as soon as possible to persons who are injured or otherwise affected;
 - (d) Endeavour to notify, as soon as possible, the relatives or close friends of injured or otherwise affected persons.

4. Where members of the National Civil Police cause injuries or death through the use of force or firearms, they shall report the fact immediately to their superiors.
5. As part of the performance of their duty to safeguard the exercise of the rights of individuals, members of the National Civil Police shall protect the exercise of the right of assembly and demonstration. Where, for legal reasons, they are compelled to break up a demonstration or a meeting, they shall use the least dangerous means and only to the minimum extent necessary. Members of the National Civil Police shall refrain from using firearms in such cases, save where the meetings are violent and other means have been exhausted, and only under the circumstances provided for in subparagraph 2 of this article.
6. Exceptional circumstances, such as internal political instability or any other public emergency situation, may not be invoked to justify non-compliance with these norms.

Article 21

Members of the National Civil Police shall not normally be required to live in barracks. Such a regime shall be applied only in exceptional circumstances and for the time strictly necessary.

Article 22

Vehicles, communications systems, uniforms, facilities and, in general, any equipment used by members of the National Civil Police shall be suited to the requirements of a police force of the type defined in this act.

TITLE III

POLICE REGULATIONS

Article 23

Members of the National Civil Police shall, in the performance of their duties, be deferred to as representatives of authority for all legal purposes.

Article 24

The duties of the police shall be to:

1. Respect human rights, the Constitution and the law, whatever the circumstances in which they are required to fulfil their mission.

2. Obey and carry out orders and instructions given by their hierarchical superiors, which shall always be consistent with the Constitution and laws of the Republic. Obedience to an order from above shall not be justification for committing acts which are clearly punishable.
3. Show due consideration and courtesy in their relations with the public and with their subordinates. Police shall identify themselves before taking measures that restrict freedom, except where circumstances of in flagrante delicto prevent them from doing so.
4. Intervene where necessary, even when off duty, to protect persons and property and to prevent a crime.
5. Refrain from engaging in any other remunerated activity and from receiving gifts or rewards related to the performance of their duties.
6. Refrain from taking an active part, while on duty, in political meetings or demonstrations.
7. Refrain from organizing themselves into unions or other groups pursuing similar aims and from participating in strikes.

Article 25

The rights of the policeman are as follows:

1. A policeman shall enjoy job security. He may not be dismissed except for the reasons provided by law.
2. A policeman shall have the right to be informed by his superiors of the missions, organization and functioning of the service to which he belongs.
3. A policeman shall have the right to be promoted within the ranks of the police force, under the conditions provided for in this act.
4. A policeman shall have the right to remuneration consistent with his rank and length of service.
5. A policeman shall have the right to annual leave of no less than 15 working days. The leave period shall be increased after the fifth year of service, on such conditions as are determined by the rules.
6. A policeman shall have the right to a pension and to social security.
7. In the exercise of his functions, a policeman shall have the following prerogatives:
 - a. To request the cooperation of any authority;

- b. To have access without charge to collective public transport services;
- c. To be treated free of charge and on a priority basis in hospitals, clinics and health services, if he is injured in the performance of his duties;
- d. To be granted facilities for pursuing studies that will enable him to improve his academic level.

Article 26

A policeman shall be responsible for acts committed in the performance of his duties.

Article 27

Members of the National Civil Police shall be subject to the following disciplinary measures, depending on the gravity of the misdemeanour committed:

1. Verbal warning.
2. Written warning.
3. Suspension without pay.
4. Arrest for a maximum period of 15 days.
5. Demotion.
6. Dismissal.

Verbal or written warnings shall be within the competence of each chief of service; the policeman shall, however, have the right of appeal to a disciplinary committee.

The other penalties shall be imposed by a disciplinary committee under the authority of the General Inspectorate. Such penalties may be imposed only by means of a procedure which gives the policeman access to the dossier and which respects the rights of defence.

The investigation of misdemeanours shall be the responsibility of the General Inspectorate, which may act proprio motu or on a complaint from any citizen, the chief of service of the policeman concerned, the Attorney-General of the Republic or the National Counsel for the Defence of Human Rights.

Article 28

Members of the National Civil Police may be suspended, with pay, where the best interests of an administrative or judicial investigation so require.

TITLE IV

POLICE CAREER AND MANNING TABLE

Article 29

Personnel of the National Civil Police must have a vocation of service to the community, a capacity for human relations and emotional maturity, and the physical condition required to serve as a police officer. They must be suited to serving in a police force which is designed, structured and operated as a civilian institution with the purpose of protecting and guaranteeing the free exercise of the rights and freedoms of individuals; preventing and combating all types of crimes; and maintaining internal peace, tranquillity, order and public security. They must also be able to adjust their conduct satisfactorily to the doctrine and legal regime of the National Civil Police.

Article 30

The manning table of the National Civil Police shall consist of the following levels and categories:

1. Basic level, with the categories of: constable, officer [corporal] and sergeant.
2. Executive level, with the categories of: deputy inspector, inspector and chief inspector.
3. Senior level, with the categories of: [intendant, senior intendant and superintendent].

Article 31

Admission to the National Civil Police shall be contingent on passing the entrance examinations to the National Public Security Academy and completing the selective basic training course provided there.

The entrance examinations shall be designed to ensure that candidates fit the profile required to belong to the National Civil Police, according to each of the levels of responsibility defined in this act, and shall consist of: a test of general knowledge, a physical examination, a medical examination and a psychological examination. These examinations shall be supplemented by personal interviews with the candidates.

Article 32

The minimum requirements for applicants for the entrance examinations are:

1. Be Salvadorian by birth.
2. Have reached the age of 18 before submitting the application.

3. Have completed the level of studies required for the category concerned.
4. Be physically fit.
5. Have full exercise of their civic rights.
6. Have no criminal record, i.e., convictions resulting from a final verdict.

Article 33

For the categories of constable and officer [corporal], applicants are required to have completed the ninth grade of education or its equivalent. For other categories of the basic level, a high school diploma is required. The executive level requires an intermediate university diploma, or the successful completion of three years of university studies or their equivalent. The senior level requires a university degree or its equivalent.

Article 34

Members of the National Civil Police may be promoted within the categories of the basic level by means of competitive examinations among those with more than two years' service in the lower category who meet the requirements for the category for which they are applying. Those selected must also successfully complete the course organized for the purpose by the National Public Security Academy.

Article 35

At the executive and senior levels, half the posts shall be reserved for internal promotion. The remaining half may be filled by external competitive examination.

Promotion within these categories shall also be by competitive examination among those with more than three years' service in the lower category who meet the requirements for the category for which they are applying. Those selected must also successfully complete the course organized for the purpose by the National Public Security Academy.

Article 36

Administrative, technical and service staff employed by the National Civil Police shall be subject to civil service regulations and shall not belong to the police.

TITLE V

TRANSITIONAL REGIME

Article 37

The transitional period for the establishment of the National Civil Police shall be 24 months, starting from the entry of the first contingent of basic-level students to the National Public Security Academy.

Article 38

During the transition, the National Civil Police shall not be attached to any Ministry. The Director-General shall be under the direct authority of the President of the Republic.

Article 39

The National Civil Police shall be run by the Director-General, under the terms laid down by this act.

Article 40

During the period of transition until the functional and territorial structures of the National Civil Police are operating normally, the Director-General shall be appointed by the President of the Republic from a list of three candidates proposed by the National Commission for the Consolidation of Peace (COPAZ).

Article 41

During the transition, the Director-General shall establish appropriate machinery for information and communication with COPAZ so that the Commission can perform its function of supervising the organization of the National Civil Police. As part of the normal exercise of its functions, COPAZ shall designate a subcommission to carry out this task, which shall serve as an advisory commission to the Coordinator or to the Director-General.

Article 42

The National Civil Police shall take up its functions gradually, as contingents graduating from the National Public Security Academy make it possible to staff fully each of the functional and territorial structures provided for in this act. The Director-General shall determine the priorities and order according to which this assumption of functions shall take place.

Article 43

The process of replacing the former security forces shall be carried out by geographical department, making sure that there are no gaps in authority. Within 21 months of the launching of this process, all departments must be covered by contingents of the National Civil Police.

Article 44

While the first senior and executive officers of the National Civil Police are being trained, the Director-General may order the creation of provisional commands for a predetermined period.

ANNEX III

PRELIMINARY BILL ON THE NATIONAL PUBLIC SECURITY ACADEMY

Article 1

(1) The National Public Security Academy of El Salvador shall be established as an autonomous body under the authority of the Ministry of the Interior and Public Security.

(2) In order to achieve its purposes, the Academy shall be accorded its own juridical personality, shall enjoy administrative autonomy and shall be fully qualified to act in accordance with the legislation in force.

(3) The Academy shall operate with financial autonomy and must have sufficient resources made available to it. To that end, it shall have its own budget.

Article 2

The Academy may conduct its activities throughout the national territory. The Academy's headquarters shall be situated in ...

Article 3

(1) The Academy shall have the following functions, among others:

(a) To train members of the National Civil Police;

- (f) Drawing up the preliminary budget proposal;
- (g) Managing the implementation of training and selection plans.

Article 8

The Academic Council shall be responsible for:

- (a) Designating the teaching staff, in such a manner as to ensure that no political tendency shall predominate among that staff;
- (b) Determining the admissions system and ensuring that it is not discriminatory;
- (c) Giving opinions and recommendations on the Academy's teaching activities;

(d) Reporting to the Director on matters which he submits to it for consideration;

(e) Preparing an annual report on the activities of the Academy.

Article 9

The Academy's assets shall comprise the following resources:

- (a) Contributions by the Government;
- (b) Contributions by international organizations;
- (c) Subsidies and other public or private contributions;
- (d) Considerations granted under agreements;
- (e) Other resources which may be granted to it.

Article 10

(1) The organizational structure of the Academy shall be determined by decree;

(2) The permanent staff of the Academy shall have the status of civil servants.

Article 11

When designating the first Director and the first Academic Council of the Academy, the following principles shall apply, on an interim basis:

(1) The Director shall be appointed by the President of the Republic, from a list of three candidates proposed by the National Commission for the Consolidation of Peace (COPAZ);

(2) The members of the Academic Council shall be proposed in lists of three candidates by COPAZ on the basis of criteria of political pluralism, for appointment by the President of the Republic;

(3) During the transition, the National Public Security Academy shall not be attached to any Ministry. Its Director shall be under the direct authority of the President of the Republic.

The meeting was called to order at 10.20 a.m.

AGENDA ITEM 75: QUESTIONS RELATING TO INFORMATION (A/46/21, 336, 449)

1. Mrs. SEVIGNY (Under-Secretary-General for Public Information) said that events over the past year had propelled the United Nations to the forefront of the international scene and spurred a revival of public and media interest. Her Department had spared no effort to meet the increased demand for information, particularly on the role of the Organization and on actions taken by the Security Council and the Secretary-General. DPI was the focal point within the United Nations for information on the latest developments; as such it made available to the press topical and background documents, updates and summaries of coming documents, and had organized press conferences. It had given national and international coverage to the Secretary-General's diplomacy on the hostage question, El Salvador, Cyprus, Afghanistan, the emergency in the Horn of Africa, and the United Nations operation in Western Sahara. DPI staff had also acted as press spokesman for many United Nations missions in the field.

2. The Department had continued to survey public opinion and awareness in Member States about the United Nations. Thus far, with the release of 29 public opinion surveys since 1989, about one quarter of the world's population had been covered. The polls had provided very useful data on priority issues of interest to the public as well as on sources of information about the Organization and its agencies, enabling DPI to monitor the trends and adjust its activities accordingly. The polls had consistently shown that most people had little specific knowledge about the agencies and programmes of the United Nations system, and that the issues of major concern were the environment, peace and security, human rights, drug abuse, disarmament, children's issues and global food programmes. Thus, besides explaining how the United Nations system was constituted, the Department's major task would be to explain to the public how the Organization's work was related to the issues that concerned them and how it was relevant to their lives. That called for new strategies, an example of which was the award by DPI of certificates of recognition to any pro bono campaigns by members of the International Advertising Association or the International Public Relations Association that supported the programmes and goals of the United Nations.

3. The Department had continued to produce factual media profiles of Member States, which gave a good picture of the various countries and would be included in the second, expanded edition of the World Media Handbook to be published early in 1992.

4. The Department was still striving to stimulate public interest in the United Nations in order to attract more support for its objectives. Several media round tables had been organized both at Headquarters and in the field, bringing senior media representatives from different regions of the world together with top United Nations officials to discuss topics including disarmament, human rights and the question of Palestine. DPI had organized briefing programmes for nearly 700 public groups and had arranged for Secretariat officials to speak on issues of interest to the United Nations to many audiences in North America and in different parts of the world. As part of the outreach to media professionals, the Department's 1991 training programme for broadcasters and journalists had since September been briefing and giving in-service training to 14 participants from developing countries.

5. As a follow-up to the thorough review by the Committee on Information of the Yearbook of the United Nations, the Department had arranged for the publication of three backlog editions of the Yearbook, those of 1988, 1989 and 1990. The 1987 Yearbook would be ready for publication by the end of the year, and work had already begun on the 1991 edition, to be completed in late 1992. All editions would be produced in accordance with the new guidelines set after the review, and it was expected that those changes would restore the regular and timely production of the Yearbook, while maintaining its usual high standards as a reference book on the work of the Organization.

6. Using a variety of media tailored to different audiences, the Department had sought to draw global public attention to and support for priority issues such as peace-keeping, disarmament, decolonization, human rights, the struggle against apartheid, and economic and social development.

7. On the subject of peace-making and peace-keeping, in which interest was higher than ever, the Department had produced television news items that were regularly broadcast, for example on the Cable News Network "World Report", as well as press kits and other information on ongoing United Nations peace-keeping operations. In March, the Department had co-sponsored a symposium held in Singapore on the changing role of the United Nations in conflict resolution and peace-keeping, in cooperation with the Institute of Policy Studies of Singapore and the Government of Japan.

8. The Department had also organized several non-governmental-organization (NGO) briefings on issues relating to disarmament and to international peace and security. The theme of the annual NGO Conference sponsored by DPI in September and attended by some 1,200 representatives from 60 Member States, had been peace, justice and development as ingredients for an emerging world order.

9. As coordinator of the public information activities of the World Public Information Campaign on Human Rights, the Department had proposed to the Joint United Nations Information Committee (JUNIC) the establishment of an inter-agency working group on human rights. An ad hoc working group had been set up to prepare for the 1993 World Conference on Human Rights and for the observance of 1993 as the International Year for the World's Indigenous People.

(Mrs. Seigny)

10. The Department had also worked with the secretariat of the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development and with other United Nations agencies on preparations for the Conference, to be held in June 1992 in Brazil. All the United Nations information centres were working to increase local awareness of sustainable development, using a variety of print, radio and television items produced by the Department in official languages.

11. The Department was also producing regular television coverage of events at Headquarters and, as perhaps the most efficient method of publicizing the United Nations message, it sent daily video highlights of the United Nations coverage to the international television syndicators, Visnews and Worldwide Television News, which in turn distributed the material in their daily satellite newsfeeds to over 1,000 television stations in nearly 100 countries.

12. In a number of publications and broadcasts, the Department continued to cover economic and social development issues, including natural disaster reduction, international efforts to combat illicit drugs, the aftermath of Chernobyl, and the external debt problem.

13. The Department had continued to call attention to the issue of African recovery and development. Its journal, Africa Recovery, targeted at foreign policy-makers, the media and NGOs, was widely recognized as a major publication in that area. Together with the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), the Department had organized a tour of Togo and the United Republic of Tanzania for 31 senior journalists from prominent world newspapers to allow them to experience first-hand some of the economic and social challenges confronting African countries.

14. As part of the new approach to information and communications questions pursuant to General Assembly resolution 45/76, DPI and the United Nations Educational, Social and Cultural Organization (UNESCO), in cooperation with UNDP and several national agencies for international development, had in the spring of 1991 organized a seminar in Namibia on the promotion of an independent and pluralistic press in Africa, with participants from 38 African countries. The Department had just published and circulated worldwide the final document of the seminar, the Windhoek Declaration on Promoting an Independent and Pluralistic African Press, and was in the process of estimating the financial implications of the projects proposed therein. The Department, working closely with UNESCO, was now considering similar seminars for media professionals - including experts in marketing, distribution and banking - from Asia, Eastern Europe and Latin America. Such seminars could help forge the democratic culture and the entrepreneurial spirit that were essential for both development and democracy. Indeed, a free, pluralistic and independent press was the sine qua non of any democratization process, and democracy and economic development went hand in hand.

(Mrs. Sevigny)

15. The struggle against apartheid remained a major concern. The travelling photo exhibit organized jointly with the Centre against Apartheid was constantly being updated to reflect the rapidly changing situation in South Africa, and the Department had continued to produce anti-apartheid radio programmes for broadcast to South Africa from neighbouring States.

16. The Department had also maintained its multi-media programme on the question of Palestine: national journalists' encounters had been held in Belgium and Germany, and a regional encounter for European journalists had been held in Finland.

17. The network of 67 United Nations information centres had continued to promote public interest in and understanding of the goals and activities of the Organization, through extensive contacts with the press, educational institutions, non-governmental organizations and other bodies in the countries concerned. In close collaboration particularly with UNDP, DPI was seeking to project a consistent image of the United Nations. In recent months, it had, inter alia, organized two regional meetings of directors of information centres in Africa and in Europe, and a regional meeting in Latin America focusing on reference service training at the information centres. In order to ensure more rapid distribution of information to the information centres, DPI was giving special attention to introducing new electronic techniques and equipment, and training staff to use them. By the end of the year, some 30 centres would be linked to Headquarters by electronic mail. In compliance with General Assembly resolution 45/76, DPI had taken steps to establish an information centre in Namibia; it was also discussing the budgetary implications of opening centres in Poland and Yemen, and preparing estimates of funds needed for operations in other existing centres. All the information centres were working valiantly to respond to the renewed interest in the United Nations and to meet the rising demand in Member States for information on topical subjects but, paradoxically, they were being asked to do so within unrealistically small budgets and even with reduced staff. She appealed to all Governments to increase their financial assistance to the information centres in their countries.

18. Her ambition for DPI was to instil a dynamism that would carry it forward to the year 2000, rather than having a system that could do no more than react piecemeal to events. A solid and vital communication programme that would reach the greatest number of people was the best way to promote multilateralism and arouse a ground-swell of support for the Organization's whole range of activities throughout the world.

19. Mr. LAGORIO (Argentina), speaking as Chairman of the Committee on Information and introducing the Committee's report (A/46/21), said that the Committee had decided by consensus to recommend to the General Assembly the adoption of the two draft resolutions contained in section IV of the report, concerning information in service of humanity and United Nations public information policies and activities. It had been left to the Special

(Mr. Lagorio, Argentina)

Political Committee to agree on the preambular paragraphs that might be added to the draft resolutions.

20. As a result of discussions held on strengthening the capabilities of the network of United Nations information centres and services, reports from the centres would be submitted to the Committee on Information for its 1992 substantive session. Furthermore, the Committee had decided to recommend to the General Assembly the establishment of an information centre in Yemen, as well as the strengthening of four existing centres in Tehran, Dar es Salaam, Dhaka and Bujumbura.

21. He drew attention to the draft decision recommending the increase of the membership of the Committee by one and the appointment of Burkina Faso to fill the position, and expressed the hope that the Committee would endorse the consensus recommendation.

22. Seminars such as that held at Windhoek, Namibia, from 29 April to 3 May 1991, were very important and constructive; accordingly, the Committee on Information wished to encourage the Department of Public Information and UNESCO to continue their efforts to organize such seminars in other regions of the world.

23. Mr. ISAKSSON (United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization) said that, in accordance with its Constitution, UNESCO had made promoting the free flow of information one of its top priorities. Its new strategy for the development of communications and the free flow of information called upon the Organization to strive for the development of free, independent and pluralistic media in both public and private sectors.

24. Examples of activities conducted under the auspices of the new strategy included the Windhoek Seminar, which had stated in its Declaration that a similar seminar should be convened for journalists and managers of radio and television services in Africa.

25. In the field of East-West cooperation, UNESCO had helped to establish a regional media centre in Warsaw, which would respond to the urgent needs existing in Eastern European countries to train journalists, exchange information and documentation and introduce the principles and practices of independent and pluralistic media.

26. As where technical cooperation among developing countries was concerned, UNESCO had assisted in the organization of a Tricontinental Meeting on South-South Cooperation and Communication, which had been held in March/April 1991.

27. Finally, the International Programme for the Development of Communication (IPDC) had continued to support projects aimed at meeting the needs of the developing countries in the field of communications, information and mass media infrastructures. However, the programme was in great need of more generous contributions from donors.

28. Mr. HIENSCH (Netherlands), speaking on behalf of the European Community and its 12 member States, said that freedom of information was the basic tenet of any democratic society and should not be subject to any restriction, limitation or control. The Community wished to pay particular tribute to the journalists who had died over the previous year in the performance of their duty.

29. The Community considered that in order to reduce disparities between developed and developing countries, the developing countries' capacity to disseminate information should be enlarged and reinforced. To that end, cooperation should be carried out primarily through UNESCO and its programmes, such as the International Programme for the Development of Communication. The Windhoek Seminar and Declaration provided an excellent example of such cooperation.

30. The consensus existing in the Committee on Information should enable it to concentrate on the elaboration of guidelines for the Department of Public Information. The Committee should take care not to draft a long list of recommendations which DPI would not have the resources to implement. The operative parts of the draft resolution on United Nations information policies and activities should be streamlined in order to enable the Department to draw up an order of priorities. The Community welcomed the Committee on Information's decision to set up regular meetings between the members of the Bureau and representatives of regional groups.

31. The Twelve had always maintained that an information component should where necessary be an integral part of plans for United Nations conferences and peace-keeping operations and should not be subject to ad hoc arrangements at a later stage. They supported efforts to make DPI more professional and effective, and suggested that at its next session the Committee on Information should discuss the consolidation of public information activities in the Department.

32. United Nations information centres were an important tool for the Department in disseminating information on the United Nations. The Community welcomed the regional meetings of Directors of Information Centres since they provided an excellent opportunity to share and exchange experience and information.

33. Mr. MAHMOOD (Pakistan) said that his delegation deemed it imperative to promote cooperation with UNESCO, strengthen the United Nations information centres and services, and enhance training programmes for broadcasters and journalists from developing countries. He therefore urged the Department of Public Information to intensify its activities accordingly.

(Mr. Mahmood, Pakistan)

34. Referring to resolution 45/76 A, he expressed the hope that the Secretary-General would devote special attention to the issue of a new world information and communication order and report to the General Assembly on the measures adopted to carry out such a mandate. The current structure of information lacked balance, objectivity and fairness, since the enormous resources and technological superiority of a small group of countries, representing only 15 per cent of the world population, had enabled them to monopolize the flow of information to the world. The structure should therefore be democratized to provide a forum which allowed the participation of all nations in human development and international progress, thus evolving a broader and more balanced presentation of information. Current conditions in the world were particularly conducive to such a change.

35. Under the envisaged new information order, the developing countries should receive help to improve their overall media capacities, thus enabling them to participate freely in the global pursuit of information and communication and play a more substantive role in advocating freedom of information and expression, a concept which Pakistan was committed to upholding.

36. Experience in Pakistan had demonstrated the useful purpose served by United Nations radio broadcasts in projecting and disseminating information on the activities of the United Nations and its agencies. His country therefore reiterated the call by the Committee on Information to strengthen the Asian and Pacific Radio Unit, and called upon DPI to produce Urdu programmes through a regular unit at the Headquarters. His delegation also supported a strengthening of the Information Centres Division, given its potential for enhancing the image of the United Nations in the countries where the Centres were accredited.

37. While commending the work of the Information Products Division, his delegation believed that a strengthening of the Photo Unit would help improve its productivity. It also strongly supported the activities of the United Nations Correspondents' Association. Pakistan and other developing countries were inadequately represented on the staff of DPI, particularly at senior level; that situation should be redressed in keeping with the principle of geographical representation.

38. The activities of UNESCO, notably the International Programme for the Development of Communication and its efforts in relation to South-South cooperation, were instrumental to the creation of a new world information and communication order.

39. The role of those employed in the media must be appropriately recognized in order to encourage their professional performance with the ultimate aim of creating a more congenial climate for a better world. Finally, he stressed the importance of the free flow of information between States was vital, and access to information was a fundamental human right in the quest for global progress and prosperity.

40. Mr. POSSO (Ecuador) said that public information was an instrument for strengthening democracy, but measures were needed to protect the system from manipulation and disinformation at the hands of transnational media interests with their superior technical resources. In the interests of improving and asserting the independence of its information system, Ecuador had backed subregional and regional efforts to integrate information facilities and had played an active role in the Pool of News Agencies of the Non-Aligned Countries.

41. He recalled his delegation's support for the new world information and communication order and the consensus which had been achieved with regard to general guidelines and the tasks to be assigned to the Department of Public Information. In fulfilling those tasks, account must be taken of the vital need to rectify the imbalance between developing and developed countries with regard to access to and control of information sources, while seeking to combat commercial exploitation in the form of the self-interested dissemination of information by those countries with sophisticated technological resources.

42. With regard to technology transfer, the less advanced countries should combine to share advanced facilities and products in order break the monopoly of multinationals and improve individual countries' infrastructures, thereby enabling them to develop their own technology and output so as to counteract the imposition of programmes foreign to their cultures and traditions.

43. Efforts should also be made to devise a genuine code of conduct, based on individual rights but stressing the advantages of international cooperation and solidarity and the role of public communication as an instrument for the global development of peoples.

44. The United Nations public information system also needed to be improved; in planning its work, DPI should take account of areas warranting greater emphasis as a result of regional or international developments; and that would obviate the need for it to improvise special information measures at particular times, and might even enable it to influence world public opinion in specific fields.

45. The guidelines for United Nations public information merited special consideration, in that they covered such vital topics as environmental protection, measures to combat drugs trafficking, decolonization, elimination of inhuman and degrading practices and the promotion of human rights.

46. In addition to reflecting the day-to-day work of the Organization, the Department of Public Information should also be ready to concentrate its efforts in individual countries and regions when circumstances so warranted.

47. His delegation attached particular importance to the United Nations information centres, and was puzzled by the inconsistencies in their geographical location and the disparities in the material and human resources available to different centres. Public information was a matter for professionals and specialists, and should not be left to United Nations technical cooperation agencies. His delegation had proposed in the Committee on Information that the Secretariat or a group of independent experts should study the location, structure and costs of existing information centres and put forward general conclusions which reflected the public information needs of the United Nations and the actual conditions prevailing in the countries it served, with the aim of establishing a network of rationally located information centres with broadly similar capacities and facilities.

48. In conclusion, his delegation believed that the Special Political Committee should support the work of the Committee on Information by giving it a specific mandate to continue defining the new world information order and determining its basic content. It also commended the willingness shown in the report of the Secretary-General (A/46/449) to meet the expectations of world public opinion in the face of the radical changes now occurring in the world.

49. Mr. EHLERS (Uruguay) said that debates in the Committee on Information had been constructive. The subject which had attracted most attention had undoubtedly been that of the information centres, a fact adequately reflected in the relevant paragraphs of the Committee's report and of draft resolution II. Discussion of that subject should continue with a view to determining guidelines for the opening of such centres; the guidelines contained the document on the subject submitted by the Secretariat needed to be further considered and extended if they were to secure the support and approval of Member States.

50. The periodic assessments of the centres by the Secretariat would enable the Committee on Information to produce a more incisive analysis, while coordination with UNDP and its offices was vital in ensuring adequate diffusion of information in countries without information centres.

51. Given that the resources of DPI could not be increased in real terms, all expenditure incurred by information centres on behalf of other organizations in the system should be reimbursed.

52. His Government was investigating possible ways of cooperating with the Department and neighbouring countries with a view to opening an information office in Montevideo, making full use of the limited resources available and in cooperation with the Buenos Aires Information Centre and possibly the UNDP office in Montevideo, an experiment which, if successful, could serve as a model for further initiatives. He welcomed the readiness of both the Department and the Argentine Government to cooperate on the matter, as reflected in paragraph 87 of the report of the Committee on Information.

53. His delegation supported the work programme aimed at bringing publication of the Yearbook of the United Nations up to date, and welcomed the progress in that respect detailed in part XIV of the report of the Secretary-General (A/46/449). It also attached considerable importance to the recommendation, contained in paragraph 1 (s) of draft resolution II, that informal contacts between the Commission on Information and the Department of Public Information should be mentioned between sessions.

(Mr. Ehlers, Uruguay)

54. To help them in monitoring the work of DPI, Committee members needed to have more information concerning the action taken on the general guidelines laid down in the draft resolutions; in that respect, it would be useful for meetings to be held with regional representatives so as to ascertain what products were being produced and sent to individual regions. His delegation would like to have access to the radio, television and video programmes produced in Spanish for the Latin American region and was willing to respond to the request for cooperation in securing access to the mass media in its country and in disseminating information about the services offered by the United Nations. Greater knowledge of the products directed specifically at his delegation's region would help produce fruitful collaboration.

55. Mr. BACKSTROM (Sweden), speaking on behalf of the Nordic countries, said it was important to maintain the consensus reached the previous year on the topic of information in the service of humanity and the mandate for the United Nations public information policies and activities.

56. Within its present financial constraints, the Department of Public Information should be encouraged to be flexible to the new demands arising from the new momentum for political change in the world. Increased coordination between the specialized agencies of the United Nations should likewise be encouraged, and UNESCO had an important role to play in that respect. The role of the United Nations information centres had expanded world wide, and the Nordic countries therefore advocated further discussions on the establishment of new centres.

57. The Nordic countries supported the promotion of an independent and pluralistic press world wide, in view of the fundamental importance of the freedom of speech and information to the development of international relations. Accordingly, they were concerned over the existing imbalances in access to information, and would continue to help developing countries expand their communication capacity in order to improve the free flow of information to benefit the world as a whole.

58. Mr. SOUTELLO-ALVES (Brazil) said that the goal of promoting a new democratic world order would be undermined if the capacity to receive and impart information remained limited to a few segments of the international community. Policies should therefore be devised to enhance the communications infrastructures, capabilities and technical expertise of the developing countries on as equitable a basis as possible, thus furthering the principle that freedom of information and the press should act as the principal safeguard of a world order based on the free flow of ideas, people and goods. His delegation had been pleased to note that the draft resolution contained in document A/46/21 acknowledged that fact. It also welcomed the invitation to

(Mr. Soutello-Alves, Brazil)

Member States to submit observations and proposals on the means of furthering such policies.

59. The Department of Public Information should be capable of responding to the growing need for information about United Nations activities, notably by demonstrating flexibility in choosing priority areas for the dissemination of such information. Increased flexibility should however not detract from the collective responsibility of Member States for guiding and supervising the Department's work, and in that context his delegation welcomed the recommendation made in draft resolution II regarding periodic consultations between the Bureau of the Committee of Information and DPI. Within that framework, a useful discussion could be conducted on improving the daily briefings to delegations, which were entitled to comprehensive coverage of daily events at the United Nations.

60. Finally, regarding DPI coverage of the 1992 United Nations Conference on Environment and Development, to which his delegation attached great significance, he said that DPI should further discuss implementing a system-wide information programme, particularly since the environment was now deemed to be the highest priority issue suitable for inter-agency cooperation.

61. Mr. LAGORIO (Argentina) stressed the importance of the Windhoek Declaration on Promoting an Independent and Pluralistic African Press, and welcomed the Windhoek seminar's recommendation that the General Assembly should include in its agenda the question of censorship as a serious human rights violation; that proposal was in keeping with the spirit of resolution 59 (I) of 14 December 1946, which declared that freedom of information was a fundamental human right. The Department of Public Information should hold further seminars of the same kind in other regions, particularly Latin America. He also supported the proposal to institute a freedom of information day as a vital step in consolidating the principle of the freedom of information and communication.

62. It would be very useful for private institutions and non-governmental organizations to take part in the work of the Committee on Information, and to give it the benefit of their experience. One of the main challenges facing that Committee was the vital need to initiate a serious and comprehensive study of the system of United Nations information centres and, in that connection, the reports to be considered by the Committee at its fourteenth session were of vital importance. He also supported the proposal put forward by Ecuador that a group of experts should be set up to study the whole question and propose possible courses of action. The informal consultation mechanism established during the Committee on Information's last session should provide a useful channel for discussing matters of interest in the intervals between sessions.

The meeting rose at 12.40 p.m.
